

Beata Kiersnowska

Ideologies and Forms of Leisure and Recreation
in Victorian Manchester

PETER LANG
EDITION

Contents

List of abbreviations	9
List illustrations	11
Introduction	13
Chapter 1: Manchester – the first modern city of commerce and industry	29
1.1 Early industrialisation in the Manchester area	29
1.2 The myth of Cottonopolis	33
1.3 Radical Manchester	39
1.4 Manchester in literature and travel accounts	45
1.5 The rise of a metropolis	54
1.6 ‘Manchester men’ and their true character	61
Chapter 2: Manchester – the cultural and leisure capital of the North	71
2.1 Elite cultural institutions	71
2.2 Commercial leisure amenities	88
Chapter 3: Rational and moral recreations as instruments of cultural hegemony	101
3.1 Social and cultural risks of urbanisation	101
3.2 The rationale for rational recreation	109
3.3 Educational recreations for social citizenship	118
3.4 Family at leisure and the cult of domesticity	155
3.5 Censoring pleasures	172

Chapter 4: Health of the nation: outdoor recreations and sport	207
4.1 The health of the nation	207
4.2 'Lungs of the city': public parks and playgrounds	220
4.3 Holidaymaking: country walks and seaside trips	244
4.4 Building manliness and muscularity	262
4.5 Sport in building communal identity and loyalty.....	295
Conclusions	309
Bibliography	317