

Philosophy and Rabbinic Culture

Jewish interpretation and controversy
in medieval Languedoc

Gregg Stern

Contents

Acknowledgements	ix
Introduction	1
1 Jewish learning and thought in Languedoc	9
2 Implications of original philosophic work and the diffusion of philosophic learning in Languedoc (1250–1300)	26
3 Jewish contacts with Christian intellectuals and Jewish thought regarding Christianity (1250–1300)	49
4 Meiri's transformations of Talmud study: Philosophic spirituality in a Halakhic key	70
5 On the eve of the controversy (1300)	111
6 Knowledge and authority in dispute (1303–1304)	134
7 The controversy peaks (1305–1306)	176
8 Effects of the expulsion: Jewish philosophic culture in Roussillon and Provence	222
Bibliography	235
Index	268