

Management in Post-Mao China

An Insider's View

by
Joseph Y. Battat
School of Business
Indiana University

UMI RESEARCH PRESS

Ann Arbor, Michigan

Contents

List of Figures ix

Preface xi

Acknowledgments xv

- 1 Post-Mao Developments in Economic Policies (1977-80) 1
 - The New Political Scene
 - Initial Post-Mao Economic Policies: The Four Modernizations Program
 - Setting the Ideological Scene
 - Reforms
 - The Need for Economic Readjustment
 - Readjustment: Phase I
 - Readjustment: Phase II
 - Postscript
- 2 Early Post-Mao Reforms of State-owned Industrial Enterprises 29
 - Introduction
 - Reforms of Chinese Industrial Enterprise Management (1978-81):
An Overview
 - Preliminary Summary Assessment of the Reforms of Enterprise
Management
 - Postscript
- 3 Conducting Research in China 53
 - Purpose and Scope of the Research
 - Distinctive Characteristics of Participant Observation
 - Data and Methodology
 - The Personal Dimension
- 4 Management Education in Post-Mao China 69
 - Management Education in Contemporary China
 - Environmental Factors—A Selection

Institutional Building

Debates and Plans: Industrial Engineering Specialty Conference—Qinhuangdao, Summer 1978

Management Executive Training Programs

Academic Programs in Management Education

The Foreign Factor

Conclusions

Postscript

5 Management of the Transfer of High Technology 107

The Transfer of Computer Technology

The Transfer of Data Processing Expertise

Postscript

6 Analysis 133

Ideological Values and Economic Concepts

Systemic Factors

Human Resources

Type of Technology

Foreign Consultants

7 Conclusions 145

Congruence and Divergence

Appendix 1 Curriculum of the Industrial Engineering Undergraduate Program:
The Harbin Institute of Technology 151

Appendix 2 Draft of the Curriculum of the Industrial Engineering Undergraduate Program: Qinhuangdao Conference—Summer 1978 153

Appendix 3 Outline of a Short-term Training Course for Leading Enterprise Cadre 155

Appendix 4 Lecture Materials Presented at the First Executive Management Training Course Sponsored by the China Enterprise Management
Association, March 1979 157

Appendix 5 Basic Knowledge of Industrial Economics and Enterprise Management: Television Lecture Series 159

Notes 161

Bibliography 173

Index 177