

HUNGARY'S NEGOTIATED REVOLUTION

Economic reform, social change, and political succession, 1957–1990

RUDOLF L. TÓKÉS

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS

Contents

List of tables	page xi
Preface and acknowledgments	xiii
Chronology of key events in Hungary, 1956–1990	xvi
List of abbreviations	xxii

Introduction. The mainsprings of political change in Hungary	1
--	---

PART I Systemic change: adaptation and transformation

1 From vanguard to rearguard: the rise and decline of a ruling communist party, 1957–1980	37
2 Economic reforms: from plan to market	82
3 Social change: from latent pluralism to civil society	117

PART II Elite politics: the insurgents and the incumbents

4 Opposition and dissent: ideas, personalities, and strategies	167
5 Party elites in transition: the successor generation	210

PART III From postcommunism to democracy

6 Political succession in the HSWP: issues, personalities, and strategies, 1984–1989	253
7 Negotiated revolution: from the Opposition Roundtable to the National Roundtable	305

8 The road to power: political mobilization, party formation, and free elections in Hungary, 1989–1990	361
9 Democracy in Hungary: toward a new model?	399
Notes	441
Select bibliography	507
Index	528

Tables

1.1	HSWP Politburo meeting subject matter, January 1, 1967–July 31, 1970	page 60
1.2	Council of Ministers meeting agendas, subject matter, January 1, 1967–July 31, 1970	61
1.3	HSWP policy statements by source and subject matter, 1956–89	63
1.4	HSWP Politburo membership, average age, 1957–89	67
2.1	State ownership in Hungary, Three Year Plan of 1947–9	86
2.2	Socialist industrialization programs: resource commitments by seven states	87
2.3	Hungarian national income: production, domestic utilization, accumulation, public consumption, and imports, 1945–89	90
2.4	Indices of change in structure of capital assets, Hungary, 1950–87	90
2.5	Second Three Year Plan, 1958–60, projections and actual rates	92
2.6	Average annual rate of growth in national income and in investment, CMEA states, 1951–65	93
2.7	Growth in per capita real income, 1961–90	97
2.8	Per capita annual income of social groups, by source, 1965–70	99
3.1	Social and private consumption, Eastern Europe, 1983	125
3.2	Family entitlement to housing, by occupation or profession of principal breadwinner, Hungarian provincial cities, 1968	127
3.3	Young person's chance of entering into the upper-white-collar (intelligentsia) group, by parental social status	131

3.4	Hungarian family status, by criteria of material well-being, position, and power, 1981–82	137
3.5	Perceptions of occupations' prestige, income potential, level of knowledge, degree of power, and usefulness in Hungary, 1983	138
3.6	Department of Party and Mass Organizations, CC, HSWP, statistics on the sociopolitical attributes of party members, 1974, 1976, 1980, 1985	141
3.7	Department of Party and Mass Organizations, CC, HSWP, executives in public administration, industry, agriculture, commerce, party and local governments, by organizational affiliation, job category, 1973	143
3.8	Executives and senior managers among state administrative, economic, and nongovernmental occupational clusters, by education, 1983, 1987	151
3.9	Executives and senior managers among state administrative, economic, and nongovernmental occupational clusters, by place of previous employment, 1983, 1987	153
3.10	Educational qualifications of Hungarian party and state elites, 1981 and 1989	155
3.11	Educational qualifications of HSWP apparatus, 1980s	155
4.1	Regime perceptions of dissident interest articulation in post-totalitarian Hungary: a heuristic model	170
6.1	Frequency of issues candidates would support if elected to Parliament, by location of district, Hungary, 1985	267
7.1	National Roundtable, June–September 1989: organization and venues of decision-making	335
7.2	Policy platforms, 14th HSWP/1st HSP congress	353
8.1	Votes for party ballot, first round, founding elections, Hungary, March 25, 1990	385
8.2	Parties, parliamentary seats after second round, founding elections, Hungary, April 8, 1990	388