

The Transformation of Judaism

From Philosophy to Religion

Jacob Neusner

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS PRESS
Urbana and Chicago

Contents

Preface	ix
Introduction	1
 Part One The Reception of the Philosophical System
Prologue I: Philosophical Categories	15
1 Modes of Thought: From Philosophy to Religion	27
2 Scarce Resources: Philosophical Economics Reproduced	57
3 Legitimate Violence: From Hierarchized Foci to Unitary Focus of Power	83
 Part Two The Formation of Counterpart Categories and the New Structure
Prologue II: Counterpart Categories	109
4 Learning and the Category Torah	117
5 The Transvaluation of Value	151
6 Empowerment and the Category The People Israel	185
 Part Three Enchanted Judaism: The New Structure
Prologue III: Comparison and Classification of Systems	215
7 The New Learning: The Gnostic Torah	225
8 The New Order: The Political Economy of Zekhut	253
9 Enchanted Judaism and The City of God	284

Appendix to Chapter 1: Modes of Making Connections and Drawing Conclusions in Midrash Compilations	315
Appendix to Chapter 2: Expressions of the Polemic against Wealth	318
Appendix to Chapter 7: The Expansion of the Symbol of Torah in the Successor System	321
Bibliography	323
Subject Index	339
Scriptural Index	344