

Democracy in Central Europe 1989-99

Comparative and Historical Perspectives

Justyna Miklaszewska, editor

Meritum

Contents

Preface	7
---------	---

PART I

Liberalism and Politico-economic Changes in Central Europe	11
---	-----------

Grzegorz Ekiert

Patterns of Postcommunist Transitions in Eastern Europe	13
--	----

Janice Bell

Winners, Losers, and How They Vote: Poland 1990–1999	41
---	----

Justyna Miklaszewska

Public Choice Theory and Politico-economic Reforms in Poland	87
---	----

Judith Green

Deepening Democracy in Central Europe: A Radical Pragmatist Perspective from the American Experience	101
--	-----

Stefan Auer

Church and State in Liberal Theory and Polish Political Practice	131
---	-----

PART II
Democracy and the Common Good	151
Barbara Markiewicz
Civil Societies or Civil Nations	153

Andrzej Szahaj
What Kind of Liberalism do Poles (and not only Poles) Need?	165

Renato Cristi
Hayek on Liberalism and Democracy	185

Howard Williams
A Critique of Richard Rorty's Liberalism	193

Marcel Wissenburg
The Liberal Psyche	215

PART III
Democratic Processes in European, American and Asian Countries	233
Bogdan Klich
Supplementing Huntington: The Third Wave of Democratisation in the 90's	235

Laslo Sekelj
National-States and the Success of Democratic Transformation in the Former European Communist States	247

Krzysztof Batorowicz
Exploring the Potential Application of the Australian Multicultural Policy in Europe	271

Leszek Koczanowicz, Dorota Kołodziejczyk Nation, Identity, Transition. In What Sense Do We Live in the World of the "Post"?	287

Caroline Bayard Minority Rights in a New Europe	303

André Krouwel, Bertjan Verbeek Institutions as Battleground: Democratic Implications of Initial Institution Building in Post-communist Regimes	321

Natalia Kutova Gender Equality in Ukrainian Democratic Discourse	343

Contributors	353
