

AFRICAN PHILOSOPHY AS CULTURAL INQUIRY

Edited by
Ivan Karp and D. A. Masolo

Published in association with the International African Institute, London

INDIANA UNIVERSITY PRESS
Bloomington and Indianapolis

CONTENTS

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS vii

Introduction: African Philosophy as Cultural Inquiry 1
Ivan Karp and D. A. Masolo

PART I. POWER, PERSONHOOD, AND AGENCY

Introduction to Part 1 21
Ivan Karp and D. A. Masolo

1. "Tok Af, Lef Af": A Political Economy of Temne Techniques of Secrecy and Self 25

Rosalind Shaw

2. Islam among the Humors: Destiny and Agency among the Swahili 50

David Parkin

3. Some African Conceptions of Person: A Critique 66

Didier N. Kaphagawani

PART 2. KNOWLEDGE AND DISCOURSE

Introduction to Part 2 83

Ivan Karp and D. A. Masolo

4. The Play of Deconstruction in the Speech of Africa: The Role of Pakruok and Ngero in Telling Culture in Dholuo 89

Peter S. O. Amuka

5. Personhood and Art: Social Change and Commentary among the Acoli 105

J. P. Odoch Pido

6. Forging Unions and Negotiating Ambivalence: Personhood and Complex Agency in Okiek Marriage Arrangement 136

Corinne A. Kratz

PART 3. AFRICAN DISCOURSES ON DEVELOPMENT

Introduction to Part 3 175

Ivan Karp and D. A. Masolo

CONTENTS

7. Our Problem of Knowledge: Brief Reflections on Knowledge and Development in Africa Kwasi Wiredu	181
8. The Topic of Change F. Eboussi-Boulaga	187
9. Chéri Samba's Postcolonial Reinvention of Modernity Bogumil Jewsiewicki	215
10. Luo Perspectives on Knowledge and Development: Samuel G. Ayany and Paul Mbuya E. S. Atieno-Odhiambo	244
CONTRIBUTORS	259
INDEX	262