

Premodern financial systems

A historical comparative study

RAYMOND W. GOLDSMITH.

Yale University

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS

Cambridge

New York New Rochelle

Melbourne Sydney

Contents

List of tables	page	ix
Preface		xi
1 Introduction		1
2 The financial systems of the ancient Near East		10
3 The financial system of Periclean Athens		16
1 Population		16
2 National product and wealth		17
3 The monetary system		25
4 Interest rates		26
5 Financial institutions		27
6 Financial instruments		27
7 Financing agriculture		28
8 Financing manufacturing and domestic trade		29
9 Financing foreign trade		29
10 Financing the government		31
4 The financial system of Augustan Rome		34
1 The infrastructure		34
2 The monetary system		36
3 Financial instruments		43
4 Financial institutions		43
5 Interest rates		44
6 Financing agriculture		45
7 Financing domestic trade		45
8 Financing foreign trade		46
9 Financing the government		47
10 A national balance sheet		56
5 The financial system of the early Abbasid caliphate		60
1 Population		60
2 National product		62
3 The monetary system		65
4 Financial institutions		68
5 Financial instruments		69

Contents

6	Interest rates	69
7	Financing agriculture	70
8	Financing the nonagricultural private economy	71
9	Financing the government	72
6	The financial system of the Ottoman Empire at the death of Suleiman I	80
1	Population	81
2	National income and wealth	82
3	The monetary system	86
4	Price movements	87
5	Financial instruments and institutions	87
6	Financing the private economy	88
7	Financing the government	89
7	The financial system of Mughal India at the death of Akbar	94
1	Population	95
2	National product	97
3	Income distribution	105
4	The monetary system	110
5	Financial instruments	112
6	Financial organizations	112
7	Financing agriculture	113
8	Financing the nonagricultural private economy	114
9	Financing the government	115
8	The financial system of early Tokugawa Japan	123
1	Population	124
2	National product	132
3	The monetary system	135
4	Prices, wages, and interest rates	138
5	Financial instruments and organizations	139
6	Financing agriculture	141
7	Financing the government	142
9	The financial system of Medici Florence	145
1	Population	147
2	National product	147
3	Wealth	150
4	The monetary system	156
5	Financial institutions	157
6	Financial instruments	162
7	Interest rates	163
8	Financing business and households	163

Contents	vii
9 Financing the government	164
10 A national balance sheet	169
10 The financial system of Elizabethan England	171
1 Population	171
2 National product and wealth	173
3 The monetary system	178
4 Prices, wages, and interest rates	181
5 Financial instruments and organizations	183
6 Financing agriculture	183
7 Financing domestic handicrafts and trades	186
8 Financing foreign trade	187
9 Consumer financing	188
10 Financing the government	189
11 A national balance sheet for 1603	195
11 The financial system of the United Provinces at the Peace of Münster	198
1 Population	198
2 National product	200
3 National wealth	203
4 Size distribution of national wealth and income	204
5 The monetary system	211
6 Financial instruments	213
7 Financial institutions	214
8 Interest rates	217
9 Financing the private economy	218
10 Foreign trade	223
11 Financing the government	226
12 Similarities and differences	229
Notes	253
Bibliography	307
Index	335