

The consequences of economic rhetoric

Edited by

ARJO KLAMER

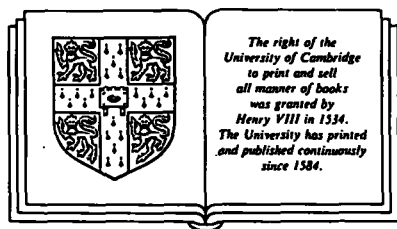

University of Iowa

DONALD N. McCLOSKEY

University of Iowa

ROBERT M. SOLOW

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS

Cambridge

New York New Rochelle Melbourne Sydney

Contents

Preface	Page vii
PART I ECONOMIC RHETORIC: INTRODUCTION AND COMMENTS
1 Economics in the human conversation Arjo Klamer and Donald N. McCloskey	3
2 Comments from outside economics Stanley Fish	21
3 Comments from inside economics Robert M. Solow	31
4 Rhetoric and ideology Robert L. Heilbroner	38
PART II ECONOMIC RHETORIC: FURTHER ARGUMENTS
5 Marxian theory and the rhetorics of economics Stephen Resnick and Richard Wolff	47
6 Economic rhetoric: The social and historical context A. W. Coats	64
7 The ideas of economists Robert W. Clower	85
8 Should a scientist abstain from metaphor? Cristina Bicchieri	100
PART III ECONOMIC RHETORIC AMONG ECONOMISTS
9 Shall I compare thee to a Minkowski–Ricardo–Leontief–Metzler matrix of the Mosak–Hicks type? Or, rhetoric, mathematics, and the nature of neoclassical economic theory Philip Mirowski	117
10 On the brittleness of the orange equilibrium E. Roy Weintraub	146
11 The significance of significance: Rhetorical aspects of statistical hypothesis testing in economics Frank T. Denton	163

12	The rhetoric of self-interest: Ideology of gender in economic theory Nancy Folbre and Heidi Hartmann	184
PART IV ECONOMIC RHETORIC IN POLITICS AND JOURNALISM
13	The heterogeneity of the economists' discourse: Philosopher, priest, and hired gun Craufurd D. Goodwin	207
14	The grammar of political economy James K. Galbraith	221
15	The rhetoric of economics as viewed by a student of politics Robert O. Keohane	240
16	"Yellow rain" and "supply-side economics": Some rhetoric that failed David Warsh	247
PART V ECONOMIC RHETORIC: ITS RHETORIC AND ITS CONSEQUENCES
17	Negotiating a new conversation about economics Arjo Klamer	265
18	The consequences of rhetoric Donald N. McCloskey	280
	Appendix: Other contributors and participants	295
	Index	297