

Economic Survey of the Baltic States

The Reform Process in Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania

Brian Van Arkadie and Mats Karlsson

This study was initiated by the Swedish Ministry for Foreign Affairs and undertaken by an independent team of experts in collaboration with the government authorities of Estonia,
Latvia and Lithuania

Pinter Publishers
London

Contents

Map of the Baltic region	viii
Map of the Baltic states	ix
List of tables	x
List of figures	xii
List of boxes	xii
Members of the team	xiii
Acknowledgements	xvi
Preface	xvii
I Introduction
1 The transformation of the Baltic economies	3
A The forces for change	3
B National economic sovereignty	4
C Transforming the structure of production	7
D Enterprise reform	10
E Impact on the household	13
F Macroeconomic issues	15
G Pointers to the future	18
II An economic profile of the Baltic states
2 Lithuania	25
A The origins of Lithuania	25
B Towards renewed independence	32
C Population, geography and natural resources	43
D Structure of the economy	44
E Economic reform	51
F The social situation	57
3 Latvia	62
A History	62
B Population, geography and natural resources	65
C Recent political developments	67
D Structure of the economy	69
E The government structure and the reform process	73
F The social situation	81
4 Estonia	87
A History	87
B Population, geography and natural resources	89
C Recent political developments	93
D Structure of the economy	95

E	Major sectoral developments	99
F	Recent economic policy and institutional reform	103
G	The social situation	113
III The reform process
5	The inherited system and the reform agenda	117
A	Background	117
B	The reform process in the Soviet Union	120
C	Possible scenarios	124
6	The macroeconomic reform process	135
A	Introduction	135
B	Fiscal and monetary questions under central planning	135
C	Long-term goals of macroeconomic reform	138
D	Medium-term transitional macroeconomic issues and options	139
E	Exchange-rate issues	147
F	Wage policy	149
7	External economic relations	170
A	Introduction	170
B	Quantitative measures of external relations	172
C	Changing external economic relations	194
8	Enterprise reform and the institutional framework	200
A	Reforming the system	200
B	Privatisation issues	202
C	Privatisation: implementation in practice	207
D	New business development	211
E	Selecting and managing state-sector enterprises	213
F	The institutional and policy environment	215
IV Sectoral issues
9	The labour market	221
A	The labour market situation	221
B	Structure of employment	226
C	Wages and non-wage benefits	228
D	The labour market in transition	230
E	Social policies	234
F	Assessment	237
10	The environment	238
A	Introduction	238
B	Pollution of water, air and land	239
C	Environmental management	246
D	Conclusions	248

11 Industry	252
A Introduction	252
B Employment and output by industrial branch	255
C All-union and republican firms	256
D Branches of industry	259
E Strains on the old system and the emergence of new actors	262
F Future industrial strategy	270
G Policies in the outside world	273
12 Agriculture, forestry and fishing	275
A Background	275
B Basic conditions for agriculture	278
C Organisation and privatisation of agricultural production	280
D Farm inputs	283
E The food-processing industry	287
F Food trade	289
G Some future issues	293
H Forestry	294
I Fishing	297
13 Transport and communication	299
A Operations of the transport sector	299
B Government policy	311
C Commercial prospects and limitations facing the transport sector	315
D Telecommunications and mail services	318
14 Energy	321
A Introduction	321
B Demand	321
C Supply	324
D Energy management in transition	334
E Conclusions	337
Bibliography	341