

MASS AND MAN

NATIONALIST AND
FASCIST PERCEPTIONS OF REALITY

GEORGE L. MOSSE

WAYNE STATE UNIVERSITY PRESS

Detroit, 1987

Contents

1. Introduction: Nationalism and Human Perceptions 1

PART I

2. Literature and Society in Germany 21
3. What Germans Really Read 52
4. Death, Time, and History: Volkish Utopia and its Transcendence 69
5. The Poet and the Exercise of Political Power: Gabriele D'Annunzio 87
6. Caesarism, Circuses, and Monuments 104
7. The French Right and the Working Classes: Les Jaunes 119
8. The Heritage of Socialist Humanism 141

PART II

9. Toward a General Theory of Fascism 159
10. The Mystical Origins of National Socialism 197
11. Nazi Polemical Theater: The Kampfbühne 214
12. Fascism and the Avant Garde 229

PART III

13. The Secularization of Jewish Theology	249
14. The Jews and the German War Experience, 1914–1918	263
15. German Socialists and the Jewish Question in the Weimar Republic	284
 Notes	 317
Index	355