

Jews, Race and Popular Music

JON STRATTON

Curtin University of Technology, Australia

ASHGATE

Contents

General Editor's Preface	vii
Acknowledgements	ix
Introduction	1
1 'Moanin' Low': Jews, Whiteness and Torch Singing	13
2 Jews Dreaming of Acceptance: From the Brill Building to Suburbia with Love	37
3 'Stay with Me': Torch Songs and the Assertion of Jewish Difference in the 1960s and 1970s	59
4 Jews and Blues: The Jewish Involvement in the 1960s Blues Revival	79
5 The Beastie Boys: Jews in Whiteface	105
6 A Jew Singing Like a Black Woman in Australia: Race, Renée Geyer and Marcia Hines	129
7 Not Quite English: Helen Shapiro's Jewishness and English Exclusivity	153
8 Visibly Jewish: Amy Winehouse in Multicultural Britain	175
Conclusion	197
Bibliography	201
Index	215