

Empire State-Building

War & Welfare in Kenya

1925–52

Joanna Lewis

Lecturer in History

University of Durham

James Currey

OXFORD

E.A.E.P.

NAIROBI

Ohio University Press

ATHENS

Contents

---

Abbreviations	vii
Glossary	ix
List of Maps, Diagrams &amp; Photographs	x
Acknowledgements	xi
Introduction	1
One
War, Welfare &amp; Women at the Colonial Office Empire State-building 1925-45	21
Welfare and the Colonial Office in the 1930s	22
The 1940 Colonial Development and Welfare Act	42
Educating African women: the feminization of professional thought	52
Wartime initiatives in social welfare at the Colonial Office	68
Conclusion	80
Two
'Tropical East Ends' in War Four Witnesses to the Imperial Politics of African Welfare	82
Lord Hailey: the mandarin's guide to colonial rule	83
Margery Perham: the maiden-aunt	89
The KCA: The African challenge from below	101
The Kenya Government: a tale of two paternalisms	110
Conclusion	120
Three
Village People, Family Men &amp; Married Women The Fantasies of Wartime Kenya	124
Introduction	125
Clever townsmen	134
Tentacular technicians	142
District plans about plans	155

Contents

Settlers and the new racial maternalism	169
Conclusion	185
Four
'Kingi Georgi, Mtukufu'
African Soldiers &amp; the Second World War
	187
Introduction	188
Men in uniform: the KAR in the Second World War	189
The demobilized soldier	198
'Flagships of hope': propaganda, manliness and an army for peace	207
Swords to ploughshares and war to welfare	218
African social welfare workers	225
The forgotten Jeanes teacher experiment	230
Community centres	232
Conclusion	237
Five
'To Work Like a Nigger' or 'Shirk Like an African'
White Oppositions to Social Welfare, 1946-8
	244
Introduction	244
No money, no staff, no consensus	249
'Philanthropy plus 10%': the perils of post-war propaganda	257
A public outcry	265
Men behaving badly	278
'We are the chosen ones'	290
Conclusion	296
Six
The Imperial Politics of Inclusion
Community Development &amp; Social Engineering 1948-53
	298
Politicians, pressure groups and mandarins	299
Kenya's new African Affairs	319
The consolidation of welfare 1948-50	330
Community development to counter insurgency, 1950-52	340
Conclusion	358
Conclusion
	360
Bibliography	375
Index	387