

Netherlandish Art in its Global Context

De mondiale context van Nederlandse kunst

Editors / Redactie:

Thijs Weststeijn

Eric Jorink

Frits Scholten

BRILL

LEIDEN . BOSTON

2016

Contents / Inhoud

Thijs Weststeijn	Introduction: Global art history and the Netherlands	6
Nicole Blackwood	Meta Incognita: Some hypotheses on Cornelis Ketel's lost English and Inuit portraits	28
Stephanie Porras	Going viral? Maerten de Vos's St Michael the Archangel	54
Christine Göttler	'Indian daggers with idols' in the early modern constcamer . Collecting, picturing and imagining 'exotic' weaponry in the Netherlands and beyond	80
Barbara Uppenkamp	'Indian' motifs in Peter Paul Rubens's The martyrdom of Saint Thomas and The miracles of Saint Francis Xavier	112
Thijs Weststeijn and Lennert Gesterkamp	A new identity for Rubens's 'Korean man': Portrait of the Chinese merchant Yppong	142
Ebeltje Hartkamp-Jonxis	Sri Lankan ivory caskets and cabinets on Dutch commission, 1640-1710	170
Julie Berger Hochstrasser	A South African mystery: Remarkable studies of the Khoikhoi	196
Ching-Ling Wang	A Dutch model for a Chinese woodcut: On Han Huaide's Herding a bull in a forest	232
Annemarie Klootwijk	Curious Japanese black. Shaping the identity of Dutch imitation lacquer	252
Thomas DaCosta Kaufmann	The 'Netherlandish model'? Netherlandish art history as/and global art history	272