

saltwater people

THE WAVES OF MEMORY

NONIE SHARP

ALLEN & UNWIN

Contents

---

	List of Illustrations	ix
	Acknowledgements	x
	Preface	xiii
	Map	xviii
PART I	TRADITIONS	1
Chapter 1	Two Traditions of the Sea Resonances • Anchors of tradition • Sacred design • Journey into memory • Transformations? • Breaking the silence	3
PART II	SEA PEOPLES	23
Chapter 2	Saltwater Peoples Respecting the Sea • Diversities • Similarities	25
Chapter 3	Seascape and Memory Remembering the sea • Terra nullius and the denial of memory • What kind of remembering? • Seascapes of memory • Gateways to lost memories	40
PART III	SALTWATER WAYS	61
Chapter 4	Living Connections Inheritances • 'Not like Bush People' • Sea power and the power of the sea • Living connections	63

Chapter 5	Sea Dreamings and Seamarks	90
	Echoes • The seasonal round: Moving like the waves • Seascapes and Ancestors
	• Shimmering waters • Salt and fresh
	• Knowing the dugong • Seamarks and sailing
Chapter 6	Owning and Belonging	121
	Calling loudly: Our right, our fish, our territory • A way of owning • Speaking for this salt water • Travelling together
	• Ancestral pathways
PART IV	EUROPEAN SEA TRADITIONS	143
Chapter 7	The Freedom of the Seas	145
	North Australia: Fishing in public waters?
	• In the name of freedom: A common gift
	• Sovereigns and sovereignty • Purposes new and old • Private rights to land, public rights to sea • Tragedies and lingering rights
	• Rediscovering common property rights
Chapter 8	Flinders' Journey into Sea Space	178
	State waters and their origin • From sea place to sea space • An end to marine custom? • Drowning the seamarks?
PART V	FOLLOWING THE SEAMARKS	201
Chapter 9	Waves of Memory	203
	Power and memory in the Torres Strait
	• Holding the sea, by song: Yolŋu people
	• Down to the sea in boats: Yanyuwa and Bardi, Jawi peoples • Skippers of their own boats: Kowanyama people • Reflections upon the past: The Meriam example

Chapter 10	Old Traditions, New Ways	244
	Riding new waves • An ethic for modern enterprise • The death rattle of public rights • The end of community? • Habitat as the key • Marine cooperatives: The Japanese example • Don't shoot the albatross
	• Reclaiming memory
	Notes	267
	Select Bibliography	291
	Index	296