

IDEOLOGICAL APPROACHES TO SHAKESPEARE

The Practice of Theory

Edited by

Robert P. Merrix

and

Nicholas Ranson

The Edwin Mellen Press
Lewiston/Queenston/Lampeter

Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
NICHOLAS RANSON Introduction	ix
I Theory and Ideology	1
LYNDA E. BOOSE The Father and the Bride in Shakespeare	3
RICHARD LEVIN The Cultural Materialist Attack on Artistic Unity, and the Problem of Ideological Criticism	39
ARTHUR F. KINNEY Imagination and Ideology in Macbeth	57
II Theory as Academic Practice	87
PAUL YACHNIN Ideological Contradiction and the Creation of the Self in Shakespearean Tragedy	89
CRAIG DIONNE The Construction of Renaissance-icity in the Modern Institution	105
WILLIAM PROCTOR WILLIAMS Shakespearean Textual Ideology	127
DAGNY BOEBEL Challenging the Fable: The Power of Ideology in Othello	137
MARY ANN McGRAIL Feminist Criticism and Macbeth : A Fundamental Question	147
KAY STANTON All's Well in Love and War	155
KAREN BJELLAND Cressida and the Renaissance "Marketplace"—The Role of Binarism and Amphibology in Shakespeare's Articulation of the Troy Legend	165
JOHN MICHAEL ARCHER Sovereignty and Intelligence in King Lear	187

III Censorship and Teaching Practice	197
ROBERT P. MERRIX Shaping the Text: The Politics of Censorship	199
SHARON BEEHLER Censorship and the Teaching of Shakespeare	215
JAMES ANDREAS The Neutering of Romeo and Juliet	229
REBECCA E. BURNETT Persona as Pedagogy: Engaging Students in Shakespeare	243
MARGARET H. HARTSHORN Shakespeare for Life: Teaching Shakespeare in General Education Courses to the Non-Traditional Student	257
ANN KLAUTSCH Defining Shakespearean Sonnets Through Acting Vocabulary	265
Works Cited	273
Notes on Contributors	287