

Petroleum Investment Policies in Developing Countries

edited by

Nicky Beredjick and Thomas Wälde

Natural Resources and Energy Division, Department of Technical Cooperation for Development, United Nations,
1 United Nations Plaza, New York, NY 10017, USA

in cooperation with Ian Townsend Gault

Dalhousie University, Faculty of Law, Halifax,
Nova Scotia, Canada

Graham & Trotman

A member of the Kluwer Academic Publishers Group
LONDON/DORDRECHT/BOSTON

Contents

The Authors		vii
Introduction	Nicky Beredjick and Thomas Wälde	ix
Chapter 1	Technical cooperation in response to the evolving situation of the international petroleum industry Nicky Beredjick	1
Chapter 2	Investment policies in the international petroleum industry — responses to the current crisis Thomas Wälde	7
Chapter 3	The structure of petroleum agreements Peter Cameron	29
Chapter 4	Financial and fiscal arrangements for petroleum development — an economic analysis Pedro Van Meurs	47
Chapter 5	Contractual flexibility in new petroleum investment contracts Honoré Le Leuch	81
Chapter 6	Petroleum development offshore: legal and contractual issues Ian Townsend Gault	101
Chapter 7	Gas clauses in petroleum arrangements Kamal Hossain	165
Chapter 8	Encouraging natural gas exploration policies Gerald Greenwald	175
Chapter 9	Financing natural gas projects in developing countries Christopher Hurst	189
Chapter 10	Political risk insurance in petroleum investment Hasan Zakariya	205
Chapter 11	A survey of incentives in recent petroleum contracts Gordon Barrows	225
Chapter 12	Legal status of state petroleum companies Richard Bentham	257