

The Economics of Choice between Energy Sources

Proceedings of a Conference held by the International Economic Association in Tokyo, Japan

Edited by

Pierre Maillet,
Douglas Hague
and Chris Rowland

M
MACMILLAN
PRESS

Contents

Foreword Pierre Maillet	ix
Acknowledgements	xi
List of Contributors and Participants	xiii
Abbreviations and Acronyms	xv
1 Presentation of the Conference Pierre Maillet	1
PART ONE: METHODOLOGY
2 Energy Options: Interface Connections Between the Energy Sphere and the Rest of the Economy Pierre Maillet	19
Comment: Wolfgang Sassin	45
3 Fossil Energy and its Alternatives: a Problem Beyond Costs and Prices Wolfgang Sassin	51
4 Problems Concerning the Implementation of Energy Policies Michael Posner	76
5 The Implementation of Energy Policy Goals Hans-Karl Schneider and Walter Schulz	93
Summary of the Discussion on Methodology	112
PART TWO: THE ENERGY BACKGROUND
6 The Need for all Available Sources of Energy Joe Stanislaw	119
7 Economic Factors Affecting the Development of Alternative Energy Sources Giorgio Szegö	146

8	The 'Invisible' Source of Alternative Energy: a Comparison of Energy Conservation Performance in East and West Istvan Dobozi	183
9	Oil-price Increases and Macroeconomic Instability: General equilibrium Calculations on the Basis of Swedish Data Lars Bergman	208
	Summary of the Discussion on the Energy Background	226
PART THREE: POLICY CHOICES IN DEVELOPED COUNTRIES
10	Reflections on Energy Planning in France Lucien Gouni	235
11	Alternative Sources of Energy in the National Economy of the Soviet Union V. A. Shelest	258
12	Lignite – a Domestic Resource in the GDR's Energy Policy: Macroeconomic Problems Gerhard Hüber	275
13	Policy Choices in Developed Countries: Two Japanese Views
	A. N. Amaya	283
	B. Toyoaki Ikutu	287
	Summary of the Discussion on Energy Choices in Developed Countries	299
PART FOUR: POLICY CHOICES IN DEVELOPING COUNTRIES
	A Latin America	305
14	Brazilian Energy Policy at a Crossroad Antonio Barros de Castro	307
15	The Economics of Alternative Sources of Energy: a View from Venezuela José M. Uzcategui	324
16	Energy Planning and Oil in Mexico: the Outstanding Issues in Historical perspective Miguel Wionczek	334

Contents	vii
B Asia	345
17 Energy Development Choices for India Kamta Prasad and S. Ramesh	347
18 Planning for Alternative Energy Sources – Experience of the Developing Economy of India and Possible Lessons V. S. Mahajan	360
19 Alternative Energy Options in Indonesia Mohammad Sadli	373
20 The Rural Energy Situation in China Today and Its Future Development Zheng Guanglin	386
Summary of the Discussion on Policy Choices in Developing Countries	397
PART FIVE: ENVIRONMENTAL PROBLEMS
21 Energy Options and Environmental Considerations: the Case of Sweden Karl-Göran Mäler	407
22 Environmental Control Costs for Coal Energy Technologies Edward S. Rubin	434
Summary of the Discussion on Environmental Problems	461
PART SIX: CONCLUSIONS
23 Three Views of the Conference (A) Douglas Hague , (B) Edward Rubin and (C) Victor Urquidi	467
Name Index	479
Subject Index	482