

A Restless Mind

Essays in Honor of Amos Perlmutter

edited by
Benjamin Frankel

FRANK CASS
LONDON • PORTLAND, OR

Contents

Contributors		vii
Preface	Benjamin Frankel	ix
Part 1 Introduction
The Restless Mind in its Element: The Study of Civil-military Relations and the Analysis of Politics in Israel	Gabriel Ben-Dor	1
Part 2 Israeli Society and Politics
Messianism, Utopia and Pessimism in the 1950s: A Study of the Critique of the 'Ben-Gurion State'	Yaacov Shavit	23
Military-civilian Elite Networks in Israel: A Case Study in Boundary Structure	Daniel Maman and Moshe Lissak	49
Israel: The Shift from Self-reliance	Efraim Inbar	80
Eban and Israeli Foreign Policy: Diplomacy, War and Disengagement	Michael Brecher	104
The Hebron Massacre and the Problems of Intelligence	Gabriel Ben-Dor	144
Part 3 The Middle East
Heroes and Knaves of the Kuwait Crisis	Daniel Pipes	175
Demography as a Military Constraint: The Case of Saudi Arabia	Jacob Goldberg	189
Part 4 Civil-military Relations
The Role of External Forces in Supporting Ethno-religious Conflict	David C. Rapoport	209
Spanish Praetorianism Revisited	Stanley G. Payne	227

Ideological and Military Factors in the Rise and Retreat of Totalitarianism

Stanislav Andreski 244

Part 5 Miscellaneous

The Ukrainian Pogroms during the Russian Civil War

Richard Pipes 261

The Gains and Costs of Non-Lethal
Warfare

George H. Quester 276

The Qualitative Revolution, or Why the Next World Order will be Better than its Predecessors

Max Singer
and Aaron Wildavsky 289