

Capitalism, Socialism and the Development Crisis in Tanzania

Edited by

NORMAN O'NEILL

*Department of Sociology
and Social Anthropology
University of Hull*

and

KEMAL MUSTAFA

*Department of Sociology
University of Dar es Salaam*

Avebury

Aldershot · Brookfield USA · Hong Kong · Singapore · Sydney

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
Introduction
Tanzania's Policy Crisis: Socialist Theory and Capitalist Practice? Norman O'Neill and Kemal Mustafa	ix
PART 1 PEASANTS AND AGRICULTURE
1. Politics and Development Strategies in Tanzania Norman O'Neill	1
2. Socialism and the Ujamaa Ideology Rukhsana A. Siddiqui	22
3. Compulsion in the Implementation of Ujamaa B. C. Nindi	57
4. Alternative Rural Development Policies Salvatore Rugumisa	71
5. Co-operatives in Agricultural Development Sam Maghimbi	81
6. The Pastoralist Question Kemal Mustafa	101

PART 2 WORKERS AND INDUSTRY

- | | | |
|-----|---|-----|
| 7. | Industrialisation and Post-Colonial Reconstruction
Werner Biermann | 125 |
| 8. | The State, Urban Development and Housing
John Campbell | 152 |
| 9. | Workers in Struggle
Issa G. Shivji | 177 |
| 10. | Industrial Workers and the Politics of Incorporation
Patrick Masanja | 207 |

PART 3 POLICY DIALOGUE

- | | | |
|-----|--|-----|
| 11. | The Rise and Rise of Private Capital
Jeannette Hartmann | 233 |
| 12. | The Socio-Economic Crisis: Ask a Different Question
C. S. L. Chachage | 255 |