

Economic and Demographic Relationships in Development

Ester Boserup

---

Essays Selected and Introduced by
T. PAUL SCHULTZ

The Johns Hopkins University Press
Baltimore and London

Contents

Introduction, by T. Paul Schultz 1

PART I Economic Development and Demographic Trends

- Agricultural Growth and Population Change 11
- The Impact of Scarcity and Plenty on Development 25
- Agricultural Development and Demographic Growth 42
- The Impact of Population Growth on Agricultural Output 46
- Population and Technology in Preindustrial Europe 57
- Demographic Pressure, Growth, and Productivity in a
Historical Perspective 67
- Environment, Population, and Technology in Primitive Societies 77

PART II Food

- Present and Potential Food Production in Developing Countries 93
- Indian Agriculture from the Perspective of Western Europe 108
- Food Supply and Population in Developing Countries 114
- Population and Agricultural Productivity 125

PART III Women's Employment and Fertility

- Economic Change and the Roles of Women 133
- Employment of Women in Developing Countries 144
- Women in the Labor Market 154
- Population, the Status of Women, and Rural Development 161
- Inequality between the Sexes 175
- Technical Change and Human Fertility in Rural Areas of Developing Countries 181

PART IV Africa

Linkages between Industry and Agriculture 209

Population Growth and Prospects of Development in Savannah Nations 229

Food Production and the Household as Related to Rural Development 237

The Primary Sector in African Development 248

Economic and Demographic Interrelationships in Sub-Saharan Africa 256

PART V Policy

Population Growth and Employment 273

Development Strategy and Demographic Transition 278

Bibliography

I. Selected Works by Ester Boserup 285

II. Works Cited and Other Sources 287

Index 299