

The Making of Modern Korea

Adrian Buzo 2002

London and New York

Contents

Preface	vii
Introduction	1
1 Joined to the Empire, 1910–31	14
The consolidation of colonial power – The March First Movement – The Japanese response – Korean society in the 1920s – Korean nationalism – Conclusion
2 The dark gulf, 1931–45	38
Japanese policy – The Korean economy in the 1930s – Korean nationalism – Conclusion
3 Bitter liberty, 1945–48	50
Occupying Korea: the first moves – The Moscow Agreement and its aftermath – Conclusion
4 The supreme disaster, 1948–53	71
The two Koreas, 1948–50 – The road to war – Negotiations – The Koreans' war – Conclusion
5 The mastery of despair, 1953–71	92
After the war: the DPRK – After the war: the ROK – The Second Republic – Park Chung-hee and the beginnings of the ROK industrial state – Conclusion
6 Reversal of fortunes, 1971–80	122
The talks begin – The DPRK in the 1970s – The Yushin years in the ROK: Park's authoritarian state – The ROK economy in the 1970s – ROK society in the 1970s – Conclusion
7 Divergent courses, 1980–92	144
The Kim Jong Il ascendancy – The ROK Fifth Republic – The Roh administration – ROK society in the 1980s – Conclusion

8 Hallowed by the price	172
The North in trouble – The Kim Young Sam administration – The Kim Dae Jung administration – ROK society in the 1990s – Concluding remarks
Major events, 1910–2000	198
Select bibliography	217
Index	223