

THE EIGHTH DAY OF CREATION

Makers of the Revolution in Biology

EXPANDED EDITION

HORACE FREELAND JUDSON

Cold Spring Harbor Laboratory Press 1996

Contents

Preface to the expanded edition by Sir John Maddox	ix
Foreword to the expanded edition	xiii
Foreword to the first edition	xvii

I ♦ DNA

Function and Structure:

The elucidation of the structure of deoxyribonucleic acid, the genetic material

- 1 "He was a very remarkable fellow. Even more odd then, than later." 3
- 2 "DNA, you know, is Midas' gold. Everybody who touches it goes mad." 51
- 3 *"Then they ask you, 'What is the significance of DNA for mankind,
Dr. Watson?'"* 125

EXHIBITS

"Molecular Structure of Nucleic Acids: A Structure for Deoxyribose Nucleic Acid," by J. D. Watson and F. H. C. Crick. Nature, 171 (25 April 1953), pages 737–738 170

"Genetical Implications of the Structure of Deoxyribose Nucleic Acid," by J. D. Watson and F. H. C. Crick. Nature, 171 (30 May 1953): 964–967 171

INTERLUDE

On the State of Molecular Biology Early in the 1970s

- 4 On T. H. Morgan's deviation and the secret of life 177

II ♦ RNA

The Functions of the Structure:

The breaking of the genetic code, the discovery of the messenger

5 "The number of the beast" 233

6 "My mind was, that a dogma was an idea for which there was no reasonable evidence. You see?!" 287

7 "The gene was something in the minds of people as inaccessible as the material of the galaxies." 343

8 "He wasn't a member of the club." 433

III ♦ PROTEIN

Structure and Function:

The solution of how protein molecules work

9 "As always, I was driven on by wild expectations." 475

10 "I have discovered the second secret of life." 545

CONCLUSION, 1978

"Always the same impasse" 579

EPILOGUE

"We can put duck and orange DNA together— with a probability of one." 591

AFTERWORD I

In Defense of Rosalind Franklin:

The myth of the wronged heroine 619

AFTERWORD II

What Did Erwin Chargaff Contribute? 631
