

From Self-Help Housing to Sustainable Settlement

Capitalist development and urban planning in Lusaka, Zambia

JOHN TAIT

Avebury

Aldershot • Brookfield USA • Hong Kong • Singapore • Sydney

Contents

Figures, tables and pictures	ix
Acronyms	xi
Acknowledgements	xiii
Preface	xiv
I The self-help housing debate	1
1 Introduction: the research situation	1
2 Self-help housing - a reactionary policy?	4
3 The determinants of housing provision in dependent social formations ...	7
4 Labour-power and concepts of social reproduction at national level ...	12
5 The internationalization of labour-power reproduction and heterogeneous labour in the Third World	16
II Housing, subsistence and simple commodity production in theories of dependent urban reproduction	23
1 The political economy of the informal sector	23
2 Modes of production and political economy in the analysis of dependent social formations	28
3 The emergence of peripheral capitalism in the world system	31
4 Concepts of urban development in dependent capitalist formations ...	35
a) The modernization approach to urban development	35
b) The Marxist approach to urban development	36
c) The world city approach	39
d) The political economy of petty commodity housing production ...	44
e) The uneven international spatial formation of capitalism	48

III	Third World uneven territorial formation and incomplete transition to capitalism	53
1	The urban congestion of productive forces	56
2	Primary capitalist accumulation and the uneven rural-urban formation ..	58
3	The informalization of labour-power reproduction in the urban situation .	61
4	Labour-power utilization and collective survival strategies in the informal sector	68
IV	Reconceiving urbanization, self-help housing, and social reproduction in peripheral capitalism	75
1	The self-help debate revised	75
2	Informal production and peripheral capitalist accumulation	79
3	Peripheral petty commodity production	83
V	Exporting planning for self-help housing projects	90
1	The evolution of self-help housing projects	90
2	Sociological dimensions of planned interventions	106
	a) Domestic reproduction and micro-economic aspects of planned interventions	108
	b) State interventions and the politics of squatter regularization	114
	c) Adapting low-income housing policies to upward filtering of the housing stock	123
	d) Upgrading in Lusaka: a strategy for consolidation with replicability?	132
	e) Some policy conclusions with special reference to lowest-income groups	138
VI	Colonialism and its legacy for African urban development	149
1	Introduction: the colonial city in Africa	149
2	Post-colonial development planning and the transformation of colonial cities	156
3	Introduction to the Zambian case	160
VII	Colonial history in Northern Rhodesia	163
1	The rule of the British South African Company (1888-1924)	163

2	Colonial rule 1924-1952	167
3	Mining industry and the migratory labour system	169
VIII	African urbanization and proletarianization	176
1	Colonial urbanization policies	176
2	The political economy of the colonial urban labour-force	180
3	African urbanization in Northern Rhodesia	182
IX	Colonial planning and African urbanization in Lusaka	192
1	The early settlement years of Lusaka 1905-1931	192
2	The planning of the colonial city 1931-1945	197
3	Lusaka's postwar development and African urbanization under the stabilization policy 1946-1963	202
	a) Town planning and economic development	202
	b) African housing, unauthorized settlement, and labour relations ...	205
X	The political and economic determinants of housing provision in post-independence Zambia	209
1	The colonial legacy in planning and urban development	211
2	Development planning and housing provision	213
3	The political and economic background to revised squatter policies in the 1970s	220
4	The legacy of upgrading experiences in Lusaka: the squatter situation in the 1980s	229
5	Initiatives to solve the problem of unauthorized urban development in Zambia in the late 1980s	238
6	The urban situation under the multi-party system 1991-1995	249
XI	Kalingalinga: settlement history, upgrading and consolidation of a former squatter area	262
1	The history of settlement and consolidation	262
2	The integrated upgrading project	266
3	The 1989 survey of housing and socioeconomic development	276
	a) Demographic information	277
	b) The Kalingalinga informal sector and economic promotion	282
	c) Marketeering and street vending	288

4	The settlement and housing process	291
	a) Physical housing developments in Kalingalinga	299
	b) Determinants of housing standards and improvements in Old Kalingalinga	300
	c) Determinants of housing standards and improvements in Kalingalinga overspill	308
XII	Kanyama: thirty years of unauthorized development	317
1	The historical background	317
2	The household and housing survey	325
	a) Settlement and housing	326
	b) The household survey	333
3	Conclusions	339
XIII	African perspectives in housing and urban development	343
	Bibliography	357