
Contemporary Perspectives on Reading and Spelling

Edited by
Clare Wood and Vincent Connelly

Contents

List of figures and tables	vii
List of contributors	x
Introduction: contemporary perspectives on reading and spelling CLARE WOOD AND VINCENT CONNELLY	1
PART I
Overarching debates in reading and spelling	5
1 Phonological awareness: beyond phonemes CLARE WOOD, LESLY WADE-WOOLLEY AND ANDREW J. HOLLIMAN	7
2 Auditory processing and developmental dyslexia: throwing the baby out with the bathwater? JENNIFER THOMSON	24
3 Acquiring complex reading skills: an exploration of disyllabic reading LYNNE G. DUNCAN	42
4 Children's reading comprehension difficulties: a consideration of the precursors and consequences KATE CAIN	59
5 The acquisition of spelling patterns: early, late or never? NENAGH KEMP	76
6 Viewing spelling in a cognitive context: underlying representations and processes SARAH CRITTEN AND KAREN J. PINE	92
7 What spelling errors have to tell about vocabulary learning RUTH H. BAHR, ELAINE R. SILLIMAN AND VIRGINIA BERNINGER	109

PART 2Reading and spelling across languages 131

- 8 Reading and spelling development in transparent alphabetic orthographies: points of convergence, divergence and arising issues 133
SELMA BABAYİĞİT
- 9 How do children and adults conceptualise phoneme–letter relationships? 149
ANNUKKA LEHTONEN
- 10 Do bilingual beginning readers activate the grapheme–phoneme correspondences of their two languages when reading in one language? 168
VINCENT GOETRY, RÉGINE KOLINSKY AND PHILIPPE MOUSTY
- 11 Using spelling knowledge in a word game 189
MORAG MACLEAN
- 12 Metalinguistic and subcharacter skills in Chinese literacy acquisition 202
XIULI TONG, PHIL D. LIU AND CATHERINE MCBRIDE-CHANG

PART 3Written language difficulties and approaches to teaching 219

- 13 Enhancing word reading, spelling and reading comprehension skills with synthetic phonics teaching: studies in Scotland and England 221
RHONA S. JOHNSTON, JOYCE E. WATSON AND SARAH LOGAN
- 14 Does the type of reading instruction have an influence on how readers process print? 239
VINCENT CONNELLY, G. BRIAN THOMPSON, CLAIRE M. FLETCHER-FLINN AND MICHAEL F. MCKAY
- 15 The cerebellar deficit theory of developmental dyslexia: evidence and implications for intervention 254
SHAHRZAD IRANNEJAD AND ROBERT SAVAGE
- 16 Teaching children with severe learning difficulties: routes to word recognition using logographic symbols 271
KIERON SHEEHY AND ANDREW J. HOLLIMAN

Index 286