

DEBT TRAP

Rethinking the Logic of Development

Richard W. Lombardi

PRAEGER

PRAEGER SPECIAL STUDIES • PRAEGER SCIENTIFIC

New York • Philadelphia • Eastbourne, UK
Toronto • Hong Kong • Tokyo • Sydney

Contents

Preface and Acknowledgments	vii
Introduction: The Second Holocaust	xiii

PART I The Third World Question

1. The Rich Nations and the Poor Nations Revisited A Macroeconomic Overview	3
2. The Origin of the Development Process: The Paradigm	8
3. Three Decades of Global Development: From Concept to Concrete	18
4. From Method to Model: The Big Push	24
5. The Second and Third Development Decades	32
6. The Third Development Decade and Beyond	35
7. Aid Policy and Third World Development	42
8. The World Bank: From Process to Project Lending	57
9. From Third World Project Finance to Government Export Promotion: The Origins of the "Debt Trap"	74
10. The Impact of Multinational Banking in the Third World	99

PART II The Western Question

11. First Analytic to the Western Question: Economics as Science	131
12. Economic Development versus Economic Determinism	152

13.	Homo Rationalis versus Homo Economicus	164
14.	An Action Plan at “The Edge of History” or Getting From Power to Purpose	173
	Notes	193
	Selected Readings	209
	Index	211
	About the Author	219