

Bertil Ohlin (1899–1979)

Edited by

Mark Blaug

Professor Emeritus, University of London

An Elgar Reference Collection

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
Introduction	ix
1. Bertil Ohlin (1978), 'On the Formulation of Monetary Theory', translated by Hans J. Brems and William P. Yohe, History of Political Economy , 10 (3), Fall, 353–88	1
2. Otto Steiger (1978), 'Substantive Changes in the Final Version of Ohlin's 1933 Paper', History of Political Economy , 10 (3), Fall, 389–97	37
3. Hans Brems (1978), 'What was New in Ohlin's 1933–34 Macroeconomics?', History of Political Economy , 10 (3), Fall, 398–412	46
4. Don Patinkin (1978), 'Some Observations on Ohlin's 1933 Article', History of Political Economy , 10 (3), Fall, 413–18	61
5. Hans Brems (1978), 'A Comment', History of Political Economy , 10 (3), Fall, 419	67
6. Otto Steiger (1978), 'Prelude to the Theory of a Monetary Economy: Origins and Significance of Ohlin's 1933 Approach', History of Political Economy , 10 (3), Fall, 420–46	68
7. William P. Yohe (1978), 'Ohlin's 1933 Reformation of Monetary Theory', History of Political Economy , 10 (3), Fall, 447–53	95
8. Otto Steiger (1981), 'Bertil Ohlin, 1899–1979', History of Political Economy , 13 (2), Summer, 179–88	102
9. Bertil Ohlin (1981), 'Stockholm and Cambridge: Four Papers on the Monetary and Employment Theory of the 1930s', edited by Otto Steiger, History of Political Economy , 13 (2), Summer, 189–255	112
10. Bent Hansen (1981), 'Unemployment, Keynes, and the Stockholm School', History of Political Economy , 13 (2), Summer, 256–77	179
Name Index	201