

Why Doesn't Russian Industry Work?

LEONID KOSALS

Translated by
John Crowfoot, Igor Poluyan and Valeriya Sedova

I.B.TAURIS PUBLISHERS
LONDON • NEW YORK

Contents

List of Tables and Figures	vii
Preface by R. V. Ryvkina	ix
Introduction	1
I From Stagnation to Transformation in Russia	5
1 Inadequacy and Hardships of Transformation	7
2 Restructuring the Social Mechanism of Innovative Processes: Variants and Dilemmas	28
3 The Market as a Precondition for Stimulating Innovation	46
II Innovations and Innovators in Soviet and Russian Enterprises	59
4 Renewal of Methods of Production in Enterprises	61
5 The Level of Innovative Activity Among Employees	76
6 The Innovative Consciousness	93
7 The Climate of Innovation in Enterprises	100
8 The Lack of Economic Immunity in the Centralized Economy	125

vi Contents

III	The Reasons for Stagnation in Innovative Processes	135
9	What Holds Back Innovative Processes?	137
10	Defects in Economic Institutions	146
11	Political Institutions and Stagnation in Innovative Processes	166
12	The Propagation of Innovations: Not Diffusion but Innovation Drives	182
13	Cultural and Ideological Reasons for Stagnation	199
14	The Prime Cause of Stagnation: Socialist Monopolism	215
	Conclusion	240
	Bibliography	243