

The Great African War

Congo and Regional Geopolitics, 1996–2006

FILIP REYNTJENS

University of Antwerp

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Contents

Acknowledgements	page ix
List of Maps	xi
Introduction	I
1 A Region in Turmoil	10
1.1 Kivu: Land of confrontation	10
National context	10
Crises of identity, of land and of politics	13
The new given: Influx of Hutu refugees	16
South Kivu: The Banyamulenge	21
1.2 Rwanda: From genocide to dictatorship	23
The power base	24
The drift	25
'Burundisation' of Rwanda	29
Militarisation of the political landscape	31
Continuity in managing the state	32
1.3 Burundi: From putsch to civil war	34
Creeping coup	34
Extension of the civil war	39
Coup of 25 July 1996 and its aftermath	41
1.4 Regional junctions	42
2 The 'War of Liberation'	45
2.1 The 'Banyamulenge Rebellion' and the Rwandan operation	45
2.2 The other eastern neighbours: Uganda and Burundi	58
2.3 Angola enters the fray: Kinshasa in 100 days	61
2.4 Other regional allies	65
2.5 U.S. involvement	66

	Logistical and political support	66
	Supply of material and personnel	70
	Incoherence	74
	Degree of involvement	77
3	Massacre of the Rwandan Refugees	80
	3.1 Aborted international intervention	80
	3.2 Crimes against humanity: Genocide?	87
	Attacks against refugee camps and concentrations	93
	Humanitarian assistance withheld or used as bait	96
	Separation of men from women and children	97
	Involvement of the RPA	98
	Massacres of other groups	99
	3.3 The force of manipulation	99
4	The Fall of the Mobutist State	102
	4.1 The players	102
	Laurent-Désiré Kabila and the Alliance des Forces
	Démocratiques pour la Libération du Congo-Zaïre
	(AFDL)	102
	The Forces Armées Zaïroises (FAZ) and their allies	108
	4.2 The diplomatic ballet	118
	4.3 Meanwhile, in Kinshasa, the orchestra on the TITANIC	131
	4.4 The new geopolitical situation	140
5	Congo: Waiting for Another War	144
	5.1 The 'liberated territories' in the East	144
	Two problems worse than before	144
	Massive human rights violations	152
	Practices of governance	153
	5.2 The end of an alliance and the prelude to a new war	155
	The regime adrift	155
	The art of making enemies	164
	Towards a new war	166
6	Impasse in Rwanda and Burundi	170
	6.1 The civil wars	170
	6.2 Political or military outcomes?	179
	6.3 Justice in deadlock	181
	6.4 Institutional developments and practice of governance	184
7	'The First African World War'	194
	7.1 From Goma to Kitona, and to military stalemate	194
	7.2 Shifting alliances	201
	7.3 Wars within the war	207
	The Kivus	207
	Ituri	215
	7.4 Privatisation and criminalisation	221
	State collapse and the privatisation of public space	221
	Criminalisation of states and economies	224

8	Negotiating the Transition	232
8.1	The political landscape	232
	The regime in Kinshasa	232
	The rebel movements	238
8.2	The false start of negotiations: From Victoria Falls to the death of Laurent Kabila	244
	Many cooks in the same kitchen	244
	The Lusaka process	247
	From Lusaka to the assassination of Laurent Kabila	250
8.3	Towards an imposed settlement: From the accession of Joseph Kabila to Sun City	252
	A dynastic succession	252
	From Sun City to Pretoria, and back to Sun City	256
8.4	Political transition in conflict	261
	The bumpy road towards elections	261
	The 2006 elections	271
	Conclusion	279
	Appendix 1: Sources on the killings of Rwandan refugees in early 1997	287
	Appendix 2: Chronology	291
	Appendix 3: List of abbreviations	297
	References	303
	Index	319