

Studies in Judaism

CANON AND CONNECTION

Intertextuality in Judaism

Jacob Neusner

UNIVERSITY PRESS OF AMERICA

LANHAM • NEW YORK • LONDON

CONTENTS

Preface .....	xi
---------------	----

Part One

INTRODUCTION

I. How Documents Relate and Why It Matters.....	3
i. How Documents Relate.....	3
ii. What Is at Stake.....	6
iii. Three Theories of Intertextuality in the Judaic Canon.....	8
iv. The Puzzle of Connection, the Mystery of Intertextuality.....	11
II. Connection.....	15
i. The Issue of Connection and the Canon of Judaism.....	15
ii. Statements Attributed to Named Authorities.....	20
iii. The History of the Formation of Judaism and the Relationships among Documents .....	23
iv. Metaphors of Connection: Genealogy through Dialectic vs. Structural Taxonomy .....	24

Part Two

DIALECTICAL CONNECTION AND GENEALOGY

III. Intertextuality and Textuality [1]: "Synoptic" Texts and their Relationships .....	31
i. Defining Synoptic Texts.....	31
ii. "Studying Synoptic Texts Synoptically".....	34
iii. Specific Indicators of Synoptic Connections among the Mishnah, Tosefta, Yerushalmi, and Bavli .....	38
iv. Mishnah.....	38
v. Tosefta.....	40
vi. Yerushalmi.....	41
vii. Bavli.....	43
viii. Not Synoptic but Dialectic Relationships.....	45
ix. Connection and Dialectics.....	52
IV. Intertextuality and Textuality [2]: Singular Texts and their Connections: The Case of Leviticus Rabbah .....	55
i. Parts of a Whole and How to Tell.....	55
ii. Recurrent Literary Structures of Leviticus Rabbah.....	60
iii. Types of Units of Discourse.....	61
iv. Order of Types of Units of Discourse.....	66
v. Alike and Not Alike: The Program of Inquiry.....	68
vi. Not Unique, Not Important.....	70
vii. Miscellanies or a Source: In Search of "Q" and the Synoptic Problem .....	71

viii.	Differentiating among Shared Sources in the Setting of Leviticus Rabbah in Particular .....	74
ix.	Shared Sources and the Literary Structures of Leviticus Rabbah: Genesis Rabbah and the Yerushalmi .....	78
x.	The Five Parashiyot Shared with Pesiqta deR. Kahana.....	79
xi.	Miscellanies or Interlocking Parts?.....	81
xii.	Leviticus Rabbah in Particular.....
xiii.	The Particularity of Autonomous Documents: Sifré to Numbers Compared to Genesis Rabbah .....	84
xiv.	Sifré to Numbers, Genesis Rabbah, Leviticus Rabbah, and Sifra: Indivisible Parts of an Interlocking Whole, or Individual and Autonomous Documents? .....	89

Part Three
TAXONOMIC CONNECTION

V.	Connection and a Community of Texts. Criteria of Analysis.....	95
	i. Criteria for Analysis of Connection: Comparison and Contrast through Fixed Points of Differentiation among Documents .....	95
	ii. Scripture.....	99
	1. Proportion of Units of Discourse in which Verses of Scripture play a role .....	99
	2. Redaction.....	99
	3. Citation of a verse of Scripture: Probative or Propositional .....	99
	4. The Propositions of Scripture.....	100
	iii. Logical and Rhetorical Plan: Formal Traits of Intelligible Discourse .....	101
	1. The Syllogistic List.....	101
	2. The Commentary.....	101
	3. The Tradental List.....	101
	iv. Topical and Propositional Program: The Substance of Intelligible Discourse .....	101
	1. Scripture and its Topical Program.....	102
	2. The Mishnah and its Topical Program: .....	102
	v. The Sample.....	102
	vi. Conclusion.....	104
VI.	Scripture.....	107
	i. Prologue.....	107
	ii. The Mishnah.....	108
	iii. Tractate Avot.....	110
	iv. The Tosefta.....	110
	v. The Yerushalmi.....	112
	vi. Sifra.....	113
	vii. Sifré to Numbers.....	114
	viii. Genesis Rabbah.....	114

ix.	Leviticus Rabbah.....	115
x.	The Bavli.....	116
xi.	Classification of Documents of the Sample: Taxonomic Connection .....	117
VII.	Logic and Rhetoric.....	121
i.	Prologue.....	121
ii.	The Mishnah.....	123
iii.	Tractate Avot.....	126
iv.	The Tosefta.....	127
v.	The Yerushalmi.....	128
vi.	Sifra.....	129
vii.	Sifré to Numbers.....	129
viii.	Genesis Rabbah.....	130
ix.	Leviticus Rabbah.....	131
x.	The Bavli.....	132
xi.	Classification of Documents of the Sample: Taxonomic Connection .....	133
VIII.	Topic and Proposition.....	135
i.	Criteria of Taxonomic Distinction.....	135
ii.	Scripture and its Topical Program.....	135
iii.	The Mishnah and its Topical Program.....	136
iv.	Tractate Avot.....	138
v.	The Tosefta.....	138
vi.	The Yerushalmi.....	138
vii.	Sifra.....	139
viii.	Sifré to Numbers.....	139
ix.	Genesis Rabbah.....	140
x.	Leviticus Rabbah.....	140
xi.	The Bavli.....	140
xii.	Classification of Documents of the Sample: Taxonomic Connection .....	141

Part Four
CANON AND CONNECTION

IX.	"Intertextuality" and the Canon of Judaism.....	147
i.	What is at Stake: A Reprise.....	147
ii.	A Community of Texts? Cohen, Schiffman, and Handelman Revisited .....	148
iii.	Criteria of Intertextuality: Morgan on Genette, Handelman on Said .....	150
iv.	Criteria of Continuity: The Program of Brian Stock.....	155
v.	From Connection to Continuity.....	157

APPENDIX TO PART TWO: Mishnah, Tosefta, Yerushalmi, and Bavli to
Berakhot VIII .....	161
I. Mishnah Berakhot VIII.....	161
II. Tosefta to Mishnah Berakhot VIII.....	162
III. The Tosefta and the Mishnah Compared.....	164
IV. Yerushalmi Berakhot VIII.....	166
V. Bavli Berakhot VIII.....	178
APPENDIX TO PART THREE: Sample of Documents That Form a
Community of Texts .....	191
1. Mishnah Sanhedrin II.....	191
2. Tractate Avot.....	195
3. The Tosefta to Mishnah Sanhedrin II.....	199
4. The Yerushalmi Sanhedrin II.....	204
5. Sifra.....	225
6. Sifré to Numbers.....	234
7. Genesis Rabbah.....	243
8. Leviticus Rabbah.....	253
9. Bavli Sanhedrin II.....	264
Index .....	295