

ESSENTIALS OF HOLOCAUST EDUCATION

Fundamental Issues and Approaches

Edited by Samuel Totten and Stephen Feinberg

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	ix
Foreword: Teaching and Studying About the Holocaust This Time? by John K. Roth	xi
Introduction by Samuel Totten and Stephen Feinberg	xv
1 Foundational Concerns: Developing Historically Accurate and Pedagogically Sound Holocaust Lessons and Units Stephen Feinberg and Samuel Totten	1
2 Key Themes in Holocaust History Doris L. Bergen	17
3 Myths and Misconceptions About the Holocaust William F. Meinecke Jr.	33
4 Teaching and Studying the Holocaust: Curricular Issues, Teaching Strategies, and Learning Activities Samuel Totten and Stephen Feinberg	48
5 The Use of the Internet in Teaching and Studying About the Holocaust David Klevan and Margaret Lincoln	76
6 Encountering the Holocaust Through Primary Documents Wolf Kaiser and Paul Salmons	99
7 A Reflection on the Use of Iconic Holocaust Resources Elaine Culbertson	131
8 Incorporating Literature Into a Study of the Holocaust Kimberly Klett and Colleen Tambuscio	147

viii Contents

9	Incorporating Film Into a Study of the Holocaust Lawrence Baron	169
10	A Radical Innovation: Examining the Holocaust Through the Prism of Story Karen Shawn	189
11	What About “Other” Genocides? An Educator’s Dilemma or an Educator’s Opportunity? Samuel Totten	197
	Holocaust Chronology 1933–1946: From Power to Punishment by Stephen Feinberg	211
	About the Contributors	219
	Index	225