

No Condition Is Permanent

---

THE SOCIAL DYNAMICS
OF AGRARIAN CHANGE
IN SUB-SAHARAN AFRICA

---

Sara Berry

THE UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN PRESS

Contents

---

Illustrations	ix
Tables	xi
Acknowledgments	xiii
1. Introduction	3
2. Hegemony on a Shoestring: Indirect Rule and Farmers' Access to Resources	22
3. Inconclusive Encounters: Farmers and States in the Era of Planned Development	43
4. Commercialization, Cultivation, and Capital Formation: Agrarian Change in Four Localities	67
5. Access to Land: Property Rights as Social Process	101
6. Exploitation Without Dispossession: Markets, Networks, and Farmers' Access to Labor	135
7. Investing in Networks: Farmers' Uses of Income and Their Significance for Agrarian Change	159
8. Time Is of the Essence: Intensification, Instability, and Appropriate Technology	181
Notes	205
Bibliography	219
Index	253
	vii