

Economic Stabilization and Debt in Developing Countries

Richard N. Cooper

The MIT Press
Cambridge, Massachusetts
London, England

Contents

List of Tables and Figures vii

Preface ix

Introduction xiii

1 How Countries Coped with External Disturbances 1

The First Oil Shock 1

Impact of an Oil Price Increase 5

Country Responses 9

External Borrowing 16

The Second Oil Shock 21

Country Responses 28

An Export Boom: Oil 34

An Export Boom: Coffee 37

2 Economic Retrenchment in Theory and Practice 49

Analysis of Economic Retrenchment 49

Financing Government 58

The Role of the International Monetary Fund 72

Appendix 82

3	Generalizations and Lessons	89
	Economic Performance in the 1980s	89
	Reasons for Disparate Performance	92
	Stabilization and Growth	108
	What Lessons Can We Learn?	110
	General Observations	116
4	The Lingering Problem of Developing-Country Debt:
	Origins	121
	A Brief Status Report	122
	How Did We Get into the Debt Crisis?	127
	Historical and Domestic Solutions	139
5	The Lingering Problem of Debt: Proposed Solutions	145
	The Baker Plan and the Brady Initiative	152
	The Kenen Proposal	155
	Prospects for the Future	160
	Notes	171
	References	185
	Index	191