
The New Is Not Yet Born

Conflict Resolution in Southern Africa

Thomas Ohlson
Stephen John Stedman
with Robert Davies

THE BROOKINGS INSTITUTION
Washington, D.C.

Contents

1. Southern Africa's Interregnum 1
 - Purpose of the Book 5
 - Change and the Analysis of Conflict in Southern Africa 9
 - The Interdependence of Security in Southern Africa 12
 - Conflict Resolution: Building Institutions and Organizations 13
 - Organization of the Book 14

Part 1: Past Conflict

2. Setting the Stage 19
 - The First Stage: Encountering the Other 20
 - The Second Stage: Toward an Integrated Political Economy 26
 - S [The Third Stage: Global Decolonization and South African Apartheid 39

3. A Ride on the Whirlwind, 1975–90 53
 - Southern Africa in the 1970s: The Weight of the Past 53
 - The 1980s: Regional Destabilization and Domestic Emergency 64
 - 1986–89: Domestic and Regional Dead Ends 71
 - S [Conclusion 75

4. Conflict Resolution: Experiences, Lessons, and Legacies 77
 - Angola: The Alvor Agreement 78
 - Mediation in Zimbabwe: From Failure to Success 82

Namibia and the "Contact Group" 91
Angola, Cuba, and South Africa: Linkage, Part One 94
Bilateral Conflict Resolution: The Nkomati Accord 99
Angola, South Africa, and Namibia: Linkage, Part Two 101
The Namibian Transition 106
Angola: The Internal Settlement 107
Mozambique: The Rome Agreement 113
The Cases Compared 117

Part 2: National Conflict in Southern Africa

5. South Africa's Second Interregnum 131

- Background to Negotiations 132
- ✓ — Conflict Resolution: 1990-94 144
- ✗ — Economic Problem Solving 175
- ✓ — Conflict Resolution in South Africa: Explaining Partial Success 185

6. The SADC States: Profiles in Conflict 189

- Conflict Profiles 190
- The Cases Compared: Domestic Conflict 221
- Conclusion 223

7. State Building for Conflict Resolution in Southern Africa 225

- ✓ — Prerequisites for Domestic Conflict Resolution and National Security in Southern Africa 227
- ✓ — The Role of States and Societies in Problem Solving 231
- ✓ — Southern Africa's State-Building Experience in Historical Perspective 237
- ✓ — Democracy and Conflict Resolution 238
- ✓ — Prerequisites for Democracy in Southern Africa 240
- ✓ — Sustaining Democracy in Southern Africa 244
- ✓ — Conflict Resolution and the Crisis of Economic Productivity 250
- ✓ — Conclusion 253

Part 3: The Regional Question

8. Conflict and Its Resolution in Postapartheid Southern Africa 257

Spillover Conflict in a New Southern Africa 258

Territorial Conflicts 259

Interdependency Conflicts 260

Asymmetry Conflicts in Southern Africa 264 — S

Toward Regional Conflict Resolution: Existing Norms and Institutions 269

What Is to Be Done? 281 — S

9. A New Southern Africa? 295

Reaping the Whirlwind: Cumulative Legacies 296

Partial Triumphs of Conflict Resolution 298

Requisites for Regional Security 299

The Need for International Action 301

Articles by H.A.

Appendix: Guide to the Countries of Southern Africa 307

Index 309

Tables

4-1. Conflict Resolution Efforts in Southern Africa, 1975-92 118

4-2. Results of Conflict Resolution Efforts, 1975-92 120

8-1. Basic Economic Indicators, 1991 266

8-2. Quantitative Balance of Military Power in Southern Africa, by Selected Force Levels Related to Offensive Capabilities, Early 1990s 267

Figures

2-1. Colonial Southern Africa, circa 1870 27

2-2. Development of the Railway Network of Southern Africa, 1860-1910 28

2-3.	Labor Migration Patterns of Southern Africa in 1939 and 1980	29
2-4.	Native Reserves in Southern Africa as of 1913	31
2-5.	Southern Africa in 1945	35