

Linga-Bibliothek

Linga A/906719

RURAL PROTEST
AND THE
MAKING OF DEMOCRACY
IN MEXICO, 1968–2000

Dolores Trevizo

THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE UNIVERSITY PRESS
UNIVERSITY PARK, PENNSYLVANIA

2001

Contents

List of Figures and Tables ix

Preface and Acknowledgments xi

List of Abbreviations xiii

Introduction

The Rural Roots of Mexico's Nascent Democracy:
The Role of Peasants and Agrarian Capitalists
in Opposition Politics 1

1

Social Movements and Democratization 29

2

The "Banner of 1968":
The Student Movement's Democratizing Effects 57

3

State Repression and the Dispersal of Radicals into Mexico's Countryside, 1970-1975 90

4

Capitalists on the Road to Political Power in Mexico:
Class Struggle, Neopanismo, and the Birth of Democracy 126

5

The Rural Sources of the PRD's Electoral Resiliency 154

Conclusion

The Post-1968 Struggle for Democracy
in Rural Mexico 188

Appendixes 201

References 215

Index 237