
WOMEN'S RIGHTS AS MULTICULTURAL CLAIMS

Reconfiguring Gender and Diversity in Political Philosophy

MONICA MOOKHERJEE

EDINBURGH UNIVERSITY PRESS

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
Preface	ix
1. Beyond the Liberal Dilemma – Rights as Trumps, as Recognition and as Capability	1
2. The Right to Mediation – Recognising the Cultural Particularity of Interests and Vulnerabilities	23
3. Plural Autonomy – Force, Endorsement and Cultural Diversity	61
4. Ordering Souls without Intolerance – Towards a Constrained Presumption for Educational Accommodation	96
5. Unveiling Mediation and Autonomy – Women’s Rights as Citizenship and Reciprocity	126
Epilogue	155
Bibliography	159
Index	187