

115 485 9878

INTEGRATION AND COMPETITION BETWEEN TRANSPORT AND LOGISTICS BUSINESSES

ROUND TABLE

146

TABLE OF CONTENTS

SUMMARY OF DISCUSSIONS.....	7
Empirical Evidence for Integration and Disintegration of Maritime Shipping, Port and Logistics Activities, by Antoine FRÉMONT (France)	33
1. Introduction.....	37
2. Containerisation and horizontal and/or vertical integration processes.....	38
3. A strong horizontal integration dynamic, limited vertical integration	45
4. Three types of logistics	52
5. Conclusion	60
Market Power and Vertical and Horizontal Integration in the Maritime Shipping and Port Industry, by Eddy VAN DE VOORDE and Thierry VANELSLANDER (Belgium)....	67
1. Introduction.....	71
2. The complexity of the maritime logistics chain.....	71
3. Forms of integration in the maritime logistics chain.....	76
4. In-depth analysis of horizontal and vertical co-operation among shipping companies and tocs	80
5. Reasons for integration	83
6. Cash or gamble? A look at some possible future scenarios	86
7. Conclusions	90
Railway and Ports Organisation in the Republic of South Africa and Turkey: The Integrator’s Paradise?, by Louis S. Thompson (USA)	97
1. Introduction.....	101
2. Structural definition and discussion of “logistics”.....	102
3. The Republic of South Africa (RSA) case.....	105
4. The Turkey case.....	109
5. The RSA and Turkey cases compared.....	112
6. Impressions for discussion based on RSA and Turkey	113

Are horizontal mergers and vertical integration a problem?, by Simon PILSBURY, Sissy MÜLLER (Belgium), Andrew MEANEY (United Kingdom)..... 137

1. Introduction.....	141
2. Overview of the rail freight market.....	142
3. Framework for competition assessments	146
4. Horizontal mergers.....	153
5. Vertical mergers	157
6. Conglomerate mergers	164
7. Conclusions and areas for debate	166

LIST OF PARTICIPANTS 173