

Business Analytics for Managers

*Taking Business
Intelligence beyond Reporting*

Gert H.N. Laursen
Jesper Thorlund

WILEY

John Wiley & Sons, Inc.

Contents

Foreword	ix
Introduction	xi
What Does BA Mean?
Information Systems—Not Technical Solutions	xiv
Purpose and Audience	xvi
Organization of Chapters	xix
Why the Term Business Analytics ?	xx
Chapter 1 The Business Analytics Model	1
Overview of the Business Analytics Model	2
Deployment of the BA Model	6
Conclusions	12
Chapter 2 Business Analytics at the Strategic Level	17
Link Between Strategy and the Deployment of BA	18
Strategy and BA: Four Scenarios	19
Which Information Do We Prioritize?	31
Summary	40
Chapter 3 Development and Deployment of Information at the Functional Level	43
Case Study: A Trip to the Summerhouse	46
Establishing Business Processes with the Rockart Model	55
Example: Establishing New Business Processes with the Rockart Model	57
Optimizing Existing Business Processes	65

	Example: Deploying Performance Management to Optimize Existing Processes	67
	Which Process Should You Start with?	72
	A Catalogue of Ideas with KPIs for the Company's Different Functions	90
	Summary	91
Chapter 4	Business Analytics at the Analytical Level	93
	Data, Information, and Knowledge	94
	Analyst's Role in the BA Model	95
	Three Requirements the Analyst Must Meet	98
	Required Competencies for the Analyst	101
	Hypothesis-Driven Methods	117
	Data Mining with Target Variables	120
	Explorative Methods	127
	Business Requirements	130
	Summary	134
Chapter 5	Business Analytics at the Data Warehouse Level.	137
	Why a Data Warehouse?	137
	Architecture and Processes in a Data Warehouse	140
	Tips and Techniques in Data Warehousing	160
	Summary	168
Chapter 6	The Company's Collection of Source Data	169
	What Are Source Systems, and What Can They Be Used for?	170
	Which Information Is Best to Use for Which Task?	174
	When There is More Than One Way to Get the Job Done	177
	When the Quality of Source Data Fails	179
	Summary	180

Chapter 7	Structuring of a Business Intelligence Competency Center	183
	What Is a Business Intelligence Competency Center?	183
	Why Set Up a Business Intelligence Competency Center?	184
	Tasks and Competencies	185
	Centralized or Decentralized Organization	191
	When Should a BICC Be Established?	197
	Summary	200
Chapter 8	Assessment and Prioritization of BA Projects ..	201
	Is it a Strategic Project or Not?	201
	Uncovering the Value Creation of the Project	203
	When Projects Run Over Several Years	209
	When the Uncertainty Is Too Big	211
	Projects as Part of the Bigger Picture	214
	Summary	222
Chapter 9	Business Analytics in the Future	223
Index		231