A	User generated branding (UGB) as a field of study	1
1	Relevance of UGB.....	2
1.1	Major shifts in the branding environment.....	2
1.2	UGB as a new challenge for brand management.....	9
2	Need for research.....	13
3	Objectives of the study.....	17
4	Outline of the study	20
5	Placement of the study in research theory	22
B	Theoretical basis for the development of a UGB reference framework	24
1	User generated content (UGC) as the subject of this study	25
1.1	Notion of content	25
1.2	Definition of UGC	27
1.3	Definition of brand related UGC	31
2	Identity-based brand management approach as the theoretical framework of this study	34
2.1	Basic model of the identity-based brand management approach.....	35
2.1.1	Brand identity	35
2.1.2	Brand image.....	37
2.1.3	Consumer-brand relationship as the reference point of this study.....	40
2.2	Identity-based brand management process	44
2.3	Integration of UGB and brand related UGC into the identity-based brand management approach	47
3	Relationship marketing as the practical reference of this study.....	51
3.1	Relationship marketing.....	51
3.2	Interactive marketing	52
3.3	Integration of UGB and brand related UGC into relationship marketing.....	54
4	Web2.0 and the digital world as context factors of this study	56
4.1	Advancements in digital technology	56

4.2	Web 2.0	57
4.3	Emergence of the digital community	58
4.4	Facilitation of legal schemes	59
5	Discussion and summary of the theoretical basis	62
C	Specification of UGB	64
1	State of the art of research of UGB related concepts	65
1.1	User innovation research	66
1.1.1	Prosumers	66
1.1.2	Lead users	68
1.1.3	Open source	71
1.2	Collective intelligence research	74
1.2.1	Wisdom of crowds	74
1.2.2	Wikinomics	75
1.3	Word of mouth research	77
1.3.1	Offline word of mouth	77
1.3.2	Online word of mouth	81
1.3.3	Organic versus amplified word of mouth	83
1.4	Community research	87
1.4.1	Brand communities	87
1.4.2	Online communities	95
1.5	UGC research	96
1.5.1	Motivations for creating and consuming UGC	97
1.5.2	User generated advertising	99
1.5.3	Fan fiction	105
1.5.4	Citizen journalism	106
1.6	UGB research in a broader sense	108
1.6.1	Vigilante marketing by MUNIZ/SCHAU	108
1.6.2	eTribalized branding by KOZINETS	112
1.6.3	Open source brands by BERTHON/PITT/WATSON et al.	116
1.7	Discussion and summary of the literature review	123
2	UGB definition and differentiation from related concepts	126
2.1	Differentiation of UGB from neighbouring terms	126
2.2	Elaboration of detailed UGB definition	127
2.2.1	Non-sponsored UGB	127
2.2.2	Sponsored UGB	129
3	Application of UGB	131
3.1	UGB for the purpose of applied market research	132
3.1.1	Social media monitoring	133
3.1.2	Idea soliciting	134

3.1.3	Implications from social media monitoring and idea soliciting	135
3.2	UGB for the purpose of commercialisation and customer retention	137
3.2.1	Crowd sourcing	137
3.2.2	Social media participation.....	141
3.3	UGB for the purpose of internal branding	146
3.4	Firm's stances regarding UGB and brand related UGC.....	148
D	Development of the explanatory UGB model.....	152
1	Understanding of Causality	153
2	Reference framework for the explanation of determinants of UGB attitude	155
2.1	Determinants in user-centric research fields	155
2.2	Derivation of hypotheses regarding UGB determinants	157
2.2.1	Hypothesis regarding usage and demographics	157
2.2.2	Hypotheses regarding attitudes and user personality.....	159
2.3	Specification of the conceptual model for UGB determinants.....	164
3	Reference framework for the explanation of UGB effectiveness	166
3.1	Basic models of communication effectiveness	166
3.1.1	Advertising effect models	166
3.1.2	Consumer-brand relationship models.....	168
3.1.2.1	Brand relationship model by FOURNIER.....	168
3.1.2.2	Customer-brand relationship model by WENSKE and STICHNOTH.....	171
3.2	Derivation of research hypotheses regarding UGB effectiveness ...	173
3.2.1	UGB as an instrument to strengthen the consumer-brand relationship	173
3.2.2	UGB effectiveness in comparison to advertising effectiveness.....	176
3.2.3	UGB effectiveness regarding different user groups	177
3.2.4	Assumed moderators	178
3.3	Specification of the conceptual model for UGB effectiveness.....	181
3.4	Extra: UGB effectiveness model for the internal target group.....	182
4	Summary of hypotheses and overall UGB model.....	186
E	Empiric model validation and hypothesis testing	190
1	Research design	191
1.1	Study objects	192
1.1.1	FRoSTA Blog.....	192
1.1.2	Beck's Festival Video Challenge	194
1.1.3	UGC based car brand community	195
1.2	Sampling and data collection.....	197
1.2.1	Multi-channel design	197
1.2.2	Questionnaire design	203

1.2.3	Pre-test.....	207
1.3	Data processing and editing	208
1.4	Sample statistics	211
1.4.1	Characterisation of the adjusted research sample	211
1.4.2	Inter-channel comparison	215
2	Applied statistics for hypothesis testing	217
2.1	Descriptive statistics	217
2.2	Inferential statistics	219
2.2.1	Characteristics of structural equation models.....	219
2.2.2	Suitability of Partial Least Squares (PLS) approach	222
2.2.3	Evaluation of reflective measurement models within PLS	224
2.2.4	Evaluation of structural models within PLS	227
2.2.5	Multi group comparison within PLS	230
2.2.6	Evaluation of interaction effects within PLS.....	232
3	Validation of inherent measurement models.....	235
3.1	Attitude toward the ad and attitude toward the UGB programme	235
3.2	Consumer-brand relationship	240
3.3	Attitudinal and behavioural effects.....	245
3.4	Programme related factors	248
3.5	User personality related factors.....	251
3.6	Discussion and summary of measurement model results	258
4	Validation of determinants of UGB attitude	261
4.1	Results of univariate UGB analysis	261
4.1.1	Characterisation of UGB attitude.....	261
4.1.2	Attitude toward crowd sourcing and open communication in general	263
4.2	Results of bivariate analysis	264
4.2.1	Evaluation of usage and demographics	265
4.2.2	Evaluation of attitudes and user personality	273
4.3	Validation of UGB cause model.....	279
4.4	Discussion and summary of results of UGB determinants analysis.	282
5	Validation of UGB effectiveness model.....	288
5.1	Validation of total UGB effectiveness model	288
5.1.1	Evaluation of UGB effectiveness	288
5.1.2	Comparison of UGB and ad effectiveness.....	291
5.2	Multi group comparisons based on partial UGB effectiveness model	293
5.2.1	UGB application specific evaluation	293
5.2.2	UGB awareness and participation specific evaluation	296

5.2.3	Brand usage specific evaluation	299
5.3	Validation of partial interaction models	301
5.3.1	UGB programme related factors.....	302
5.3.2	User personality related factors.....	308
5.4	Extra: Validation of internal UGB effectiveness model.....	316
5.4.1	Validation of inherent measurement models.....	316
5.4.2	Validation of structural model	321
5.5	Discussion and summary of structural model results	323
F	Summary, critical consideration and outlook	330
1	Summary of the study results	331
2	Managerial implications	338
3	Critical consideration of the study results	342
4	Directions of future research	345
