

Restructuring Work and Employment in Europe

Managing Change in an Era of Globalisation

Edited by

Bernard Gazier

Professor of Economics, Centre d'Économie de la Sorbonne, University of Paris 1 and CNRS, France

Frédéric Bruggeman

Consultant, Amnyos, Paris, France

with

Sian Moore

Researcher, Working Lives Research Institute, United Kingdom

Edward Elgar

Cheltenham, UK • Northampton, MA, USA

Contents

List of Contributors	vii
Acknowledgements	x
Introduction	1
Frédéric Bruggeman and Bernard Gazier
1. Comparing processes across Europe Bernard Gazier	11
2. The restructuring process: towards a comprehensive analysis Dominique Paucard	32
3. Innovation: from employment protection to anticipation Frédéric Bruggeman	57
4. Belgium: a corporatist regime Frédéric Naedenoen	78
5. France: law driven restructuring Maxime Petrovski, Rachel Beaujolin-Bellet, Frédéric Bruggeman and Claude Emmanuel Triomphe	101
6. Germany: negotiated restructuring Matthias Knuth and Gernot Mühge	120
7. The Swedish model of restructuring Ola Bergström and Andreas Diedrich	141
8. United Kingdom: market driven restructuring Sian Moore and Geof Luton	168
9. Innovative restructuring – learning from company experience Ola Bergström and Andreas Diedrich	185
10. Trade unions – obstacles or facilitators? Sian Moore, Greg Thomson and Geof Luton	215
11. Supporting job transitions: employers, worker representatives and agencies Matthias Knuth	239
12. The territory: an innovation laboratory Rachel Beaujolin-Bellet	263
13. Networking: employers' groups Gelica Dalon and François Pichault	285
14. Health impacts and innovative approaches Thomas Kieselbach and Debora Jeske	308

15. Does Europe have restructuring policies?	339
Claude Emmanuel Triomphe
Conclusion: a capitalisation approach	368
Frédéric Bruggeman and Bernard Gazier
Index	389