Strategic Orientation and Alliance Portfolio Configuration

The Interdependence of Strategy
and Alliance Portfolio Management

With a foreword by Prof. Dr. Gerhard Speckbacher

GABLER EDITION WISSENSCHAFT

Table of Contents

Introduction.....	1
1 Theoretical underpinnings of alliance and network research	4
1.1 A critical assessment of TCE’s contribution to alliance and network research.....	5
1.1.1 An introduction to transaction cost theory.....	6
1.1.2 A transaction cost perspective on alliance and network formation	7
1.1.3 A transaction cost perspective on value creation in alliances and networks	8
1.2 A critical assessment of the RBV’s contribution to alliance and network research	10
1.2.1 An introduction to the resource-based view	10
1.2.2 The resource-based view in the context of alliance and network research.....	13
1.2.3 A resource-based perspective on alliance and network formation	18
1.2.4 A resource-based perspective on value creation in alliances and networks	21
1.3 A critical assessment of SNT’s contribution to alliance and network research.....	23
1.3.1 An introduction to social network theory	23
1.3.2 Social network theory’s perspective on alliance and network formation.....	29
1.3.3 Social network theory’s perspective on value creation in alliances and networks	30
1.4 A review of multi-theory concepts in alliance and network research.....	34
1.4.1 The network organization: Integrating TCE and SNT.....	35
1.4.2 The relational view: Integrating RBV and SNT	36
1.4.3 Network resources: Integrating RBV and SNT	38
1.5 Discussion and Synthesis.....	40
1.5.1 Alliance formation and network development.....	41
1.5.2 Value creation through resource benefits	42

1.5.3	Value creation through coordination and control benefits.....	43
1.5.4	Conclusion	45
2	Theoretical underpinnings of organizational configurations	47
2.1	Intra-industry structure and strategic groups: the inductive approach.....	47
2.2	Organizational configurations and strategic types: the deductive approach.....	50
2.2.1	An introduction to configurational approaches to organizational analysis.....	50
2.2.2	Porter’s generic strategies	53
2.2.3	Miles & Snow’s strategic types	54
3	Theory and Hypotheses.....	60
3.1	Definition of key terms	60
3.2	The concept of “fit” in strategy research	61
3.3	Linking strategy and alliance portfolio configuration	63
3.4	Strategic types and their resource needs	68
3.4.1	A brief review of different operationalizations of business strategy	69
3.4.2	A synthesis of Miles and Snow’s typology.....	70
3.4.3	Comparing Porter’s generic strategies and Miles and Snow’s framework.....	71
3.4.4	A critical assessment of the applicability of Miles and Snow’s typology today ...	72
3.4.5	Zammuto’s framework.....	73
3.4.6	Strategic types – characteristics, capabilities and resource needs	77
3.5	Alliance portfolio configuration	79
3.5.1	The alliance portfolio: a multi-theory concept.....	80
3.5.2	Network size	82
3.5.3	Network diversity.....	82

3.5.4	Tie strength	84
4	Empirical Setting: The pharmaceutical industry.....	87
4.1	Overview of the pharmaceutical sector.....	87
4.2	Product groups in the pharmaceutical industry.....	89
4.3	The pharmaceutical value chain.....	91
4.4	Pipeline management, risk and the role of alliances and M&A	95
4.5	Summary	96
5	Methods.....	97
5.1	Research design overview.....	97
5.2	Sample.....	100
5.2.1	Defining industry borders	101
5.2.2	Defining the sample	104
5.3	Data	106
5.4	Data sources	108
5.5	Variables	109
5.5.1	Measuring strategy.....	109
5.5.2	Measuring alliance portfolio configuration	115
6	Step 1: Identifying homogeneous strategic types	121
6.1	An introduction to cluster analysis	121
6.2	Analytical procedure.....	122
6.2.1	Specification of research objective and selection of clustering variables.....	122
6.2.2	Research design issues and descriptive statistics.....	124

6.2.3	Selection of similarity measure and clustering algorithm.....	127
6.2.4	Deriving Clusters	129
6.3	Results.....	131
6.3.1	Cluster profiling and validation	131
6.3.2	Cluster interpretation and conclusions.....	136
7	Step 2: Analyzing the strategy – alliance portfolio alignment.....	139
7.1	An introduction to ANOVA and MANOVA.....	139
7.2	Analytical procedure.....	141
7.2.1	Descriptive statistics and normality assumption.....	141
7.2.2	ANOVA – comparison of individual network characteristics.....	144
7.2.3	MANOVA – comparison of profiles	147
7.3	Summary of results	153
8	Discussion.....	156
9	Conclusion and implications for future research	159
	Appendices.....	161
	Glossary	163
	Bibliography	165
