

Capitalizing on the Demographic Transition

Tackling Noncommunicable Diseases in South Asia

Michael Maurice Engelgau, Sameh El-Saharty, Preeti Kudesia, Vikram Rajan,
Sandra Rosenhouse, and Kyoko Okamoto

THE WORLD BANK
Washington, D.C.

Contents

|                        |  |             |
|------------------------|--|-------------|
| Preface         |  | xi   |
| Acknowledgments |  | xv   |
| Abbreviations   |  | xvii |
|                        | Overview                                    | 1    |
|                        | Introduction                                       | 1           |
|                        | What Is Happening and Its Implications             | 2           |
|                        | Why the Need to Act Now                            | 5           |
|                        | How to Respond                                     | 8           |
|                        | Conclusion   | 11          |
|                        | Notes  | 11          |
| PART I          | What Is Happening and Its Implications      | 13   |
| Chapter 1       | Regional Aging and Disease Burden           | 15   |
|                        | Regional Demographic and Epidemiologic Transitions | 15          |
|                        | NCDs in South Asia                                 | 24          |
|                        | Economic Burden                                    | 31          |
|                        | Notes  | 36          |
|                        | References   | 37          |

|                  |   |           |
|------------------|---|-----------|
| Chapter 2 | Country-Level Aging and Disease Burden                                   | 41 |
|                  | Afghanistan   | 42        |
|                  | Bangladesh  | 43        |
|                  | Bhutan  | 44        |
|                  | India   | 46        |
|                  | Maldives  | 47        |
|                  | Nepal   | 49        |
|                  | Pakistan  | 50        |
|                  | Sri Lanka   | 51        |
|                  | Implications for South Asia   | 53        |
|                  | Notes   | 54        |
|                  | References  | 55        |
| PART II   | Why the Need to Act Now  | 57 |
| Chapter 3 | Rationale for Action   | 59 |
|                  | Social and Political Perspective  | 59        |
|                  | Economic and Development Perspective  | 60        |
|                  | Health Sector Perspective   | 62        |
|                  | References  | 63        |
| Chapter 4 | Opportunities for Prevention and Control                                 | 65 |
|                  | Global and National Policy Context for NCDs                                     | 65        |
|                  | What Can Governments Do?  | 66        |
|                  | Prevention of NCDs  | 68        |
|                  | Defining the Focus of NCD Interventions:  |           |
|                  | Prevention versus Treatment   | 68        |
|                  | Cost-Effectiveness Evidence on  |           |
|                  | Prevention, Control, and Treatment of NCDs                                      | 71        |
|                  | Notes   | 76        |
|                  | References  | 77        |
| PART III  | How to Respond   | 81 |
| Chapter 5 | Developing a Policy Options Framework for Prevention and Control of NCDs | 83 |
|                  | Introducing the Policy Options Framework  | 83        |
|                  | Common Challenges for Tackling NCDs   | 90        |
|                  | Reference   | 93        |

|                       |   |                |
|-----------------------|---|----------------|
| Chapter 6      | Country Capacity and Accomplishments and Application of the Policy Options Framework | 95      |
|                       | Afghanistan   | 97             |
|                       | Bangladesh  | 98             |
|                       | Bhutan  | 99             |
|                       | India   | 100            |
|                       | Maldives  | 101            |
|                       | Nepal   | 103            |
|                       | Pakistan  | 103            |
|                       | Sri Lanka   | 105            |
|                       | Notes   | 106            |
|                       | References  | 106            |
| Chapter 7  | Regional Strategies for NCD Prevention and Control                               | 109 |
|                       | Guiding Principles for Regional Collaboration   | 110            |
|                       | Strategies for NCD Risk Factors   | 112            |
|                       | Strategies to Improve Health Systems  | 117            |
|                       | Regional Institutional Capacity and Past Collaboration                                      | 123            |
|                       | Conclusions   | 124            |
|                       | Notes   | 125            |
|                       | References  | 125            |
| Appendix A | Country Capacity Assessments and Accomplishments                                 | 129 |
|                       | Reference   | 131            |
| Appendix B | Economic Rationale for Public Policy to Address NCDs                             | 133 |
|                       | Standard Efficiency-Based Rationales  | 134            |
|                       | Nonstandard Economic Rationales:  |                |
|                       | Behavioral Economics  | 136            |
|                       | Conclusion  | 137            |
|                       | Notes   | 137            |
|                       | References  | 138            |

|                   |   |            |
|-------------------|---|------------|
| Appendix C | Disease Control Priorities in Developing Countries: Population-Based and Individualized Interventions for NCD Prevention and Control | 141 |
|                   | References  | 148        |
| Appendix D | Aligning Policy Options with Burden and Capacity   | 149 |
|                   | References  | 158        |
| Appendix E | Capacity, Key Accomplishments, and Situational Analysis for NCDs   | 159 |
|                   | Afghanistan   | 159        |
|                   | Bangladesh  | 161        |
|                   | Bhutan  | 163        |
|                   | India   | 165        |
|                   | Maldives  | 167        |
|                   | Nepal   | 169        |
|                   | Pakistan  | 171        |
|                   | Sri Lanka   | 173        |
|                   | Note  | 175        |
|                   | References  | 175        |
| Index      |   | 177 |
| Boxes      |   |            |
| 1.1               | Demographic and Epidemiologic Transitions   | 17         |
| 1.2               | Methods to Describe the Health Situation in South Asia  | 25         |
| 2.1               | The Social and Economic Impact of NCDs in the Russian Federation  | 54         |
| 4.1               | Framework Convention on Tobacco Control   | 66         |
| 4.2               | Construct for NCDs  | 69         |
| 5.1               | The Private Sector and NCDs   | 92         |
| A.1               | Country Capacity  | 130        |
| D.1               | Mapping the Relationship Between Burden and Capacity  | 150        |
| Figures    |   |            |
| 1.1               | Age Structure in South Asia   | 16         |
| 1.2               | Dependency Ratios in Developed and Developing Countries   | 18         |