

1/198 455 450

Making Fiscal Decentralization Work: Cross-Country Experiences

Annalisa Fedelino and Teresa Ter-Minassian

Preface	vii
Acknowledgments	ix
Abbreviations	x
Introduction	xi
Part I Lessons	1
1 Fiscal Decentralization: Key Issues	3
A Brief Literature Review	3
Macrofiscal Implications of Decentralization	4
2 The IMF's Advice on Designing and Managing Fiscal Decentralization	10
Defining Spending Responsibilities	11
Ensuring Sound Public Financial Management	15
Designing Intergovernmental Revenue Arrangements	18
Identifying Mechanisms to Control Borrowing	29
3 Lessons Learned and Challenges Ahead	34
Part II Background Studies	39
4 Bolivia	40
The 1990s: Increasing Municipal Autonomy Leads to Fiscal Imbalances	40
The Early 2000s: Fiscal Unraveling	42
The Late 2000s: Stronger Prefecturas Demand Control of Hydrocarbon Resources	42
Conclusions	43
5 China	45
The 1994 Fiscal Reform	46
Implications of the Current System	47
IMF Advice and Possible Reforms	48
6 Colombia	50
The 1990s: First Round of Decentralization Reforms and IMF Advice	51
The Successful Transformation of Bogotá	53
IMF Advice in Recent Years and Remaining Challenges	53

7	Democratic Republic of the Congo	56
	Fiscal Arrangements Prior to Enactment of Decentralization Legislation	56
	Deficiencies of the Constitutionally Mandated Fiscal Decentralization	57
	The National Forum on Decentralization	58
	The 2008 Decentralization Legislation	59
	Current Transitional Arrangements	59
	The Key Role of the New Organic Public Finance Law	60
8	Indonesia	62
	IMF Advice on Fiscal Decentralization	63
	An Assessment of Recent Reforms and Remaining Challenges	66
9	Kosovo	68
	Overall Framework of the IMF's Advice	69
	Remaining Challenges	73
10	Liberia	75
	Administrative Rationalization	76
	Strengthening Subnational Roles before Decentralization	76
	Toward a Framework for Fiscal Decentralization	78
11	The Former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia	80
	IMF Advice on Fiscal Decentralization	80
	Current Intergovernmental Fiscal Arrangements	82
	Remaining Challenges	83
12	Mexico	85
	The Subnational Debt Crises of the Mid-1990s	86
	Current Intergovernmental Fiscal Arrangements	86
	IMF Advice on Fiscal Decentralization	87
	Recent Progress and Remaining Challenges	89
13	Nigeria	90
	IMF Advice on Fiscal Decentralization	90
	Recent Progress	92
	Remaining Challenges	93
	References	95