LEARNING IN 3D Adding a New Dimension to Enterprise Learning and Collaboration

Karl M. Kapp Tony O'Driscoll

Contents

Foreword	xi
Preface	xv
Acknowledgments	xxiii
Devisit Fundaciona the Describilities

Part I: Exploring the Possibilities
Chapter 1:	Here Comes the Immersive Internet!	3
	The Invisibly Pervasive Web	4
	Welcome to the Webvolution	6
	Social Production Comes of Age	14
	The Immersive Internet Singularity	16
	Business Unusual	20

۷

Chapter 2:	Learning to Change	23
	Challenging Classroom Captivation	24
	A Preoccupation with Productivity	28
	Seven Scary Problems with the Status Quo	29
	Compounded Marginalization	35
	Networked Learning	38
	Learning to Change	39
Chapter 3:	Escaping Flatland	41
	A Brave New Learning World	43
	From Interactivity to Engagement	54
	The Seven Sensibilities of VIEs	56
	Synthesizing the Sensibilities	62
	Implications for Trainers and Educators	64
	Part II: Building a Bluprint
Chapter 4:	Architecting Learning Experiences	69
	Avoiding the Buggy-Whip Experience	69
	3D Learning Experience Design Principles	70
	Synthesizing the Principles	77
	From Principles to Macrostructures	78
	From Macrostructures to Archetypes and Sensibilities	80
	Achieving Architectural Alignment	82
	Implications for Learning Professionals	83
	Insights from Innovators, by Randy Hinrichs, CEO of 2b3d	84
Chapter 5:	Designing by Archetype	89
	Introduction	89
	Creation of the Archetypes	90
	· Defining the Archetypes	91

s.

	Instructional Goals	117
	Implications for Learning Professionals	117
Chapter 6:	Learning from Experience	119
	Follow the Leaders	119
	Case Study Format and Questions	119
	Case 1: Diversity and Inclusion with Virtual Worlds	122
	Case 2: Experiencing an Inventory Observation	133
	Case 3: Witnessing History in Virtual Worlds: Kristallnacht— The November 1938 Pogoms	142
	Case 4: Virtual First-Responder Learning Experience	151
	Case 5: Virtual Border Service Officer Training	158
	Case 6: Teaching Rhetoric in a Virtual Environment	166
	Case 7: Environmental Science in a Virtual Green Home	173
	Case 8: Creating a Virtual Challenge for Global Graduates	181
	Case 9: Hosting Virtual Academy of Technology Events	190
	Part III: Breaking New Ground
Chapter 7:	Overcoming Being Addled by ADDIE	203
	Avoiding the Virtual Ghost Town	203
	Development Team	209
	Design Points for Virtual Learning Worlds	211
	Leveraging the ADDIE Model	216
	Step-by-Step Designing Process	232
	Working with a Third-Party Virtual World Vendor	233
	Implications for Trainers and Educators	237
Chapter 8:	Steps to Successful Enterprise Adoption	239
	Introduction	239
	Diffusion of Innovations	241
	Crafting the Business or Education Case for VIEs	253

	Implementation Considerations	259
	Lessons from the Front Line: How Early Adopters Achieve and Measure Success, by Erica Driver and Sam Driver,
	Co-Founders and Principals, ThinkBalm	264
	Implications for Learning Professionals	271
Chapter 9:	Rules from Revolutionaries	273
	Meet the Revolutionaries	273
	Essay Format and Questions	274
	Essay 1, by Steve Mahaley, Duke Corporation Education	275
	Essay 2, by Karen Keeter, IBM	280
	Essay 3, by Brian Bauer, Étape Partners	291
	Essay 4, by John Hengeveld, Intel	299
	Rules from Revolutionaries	304
	Part IV: Just Beyond the Horizon
Chapter 10	Part IV: Just Beyond the Horizon : Back to the Future	311
Chapter 10	Part IV: Just Beyond the Horizon : Back to the Future Introduction	311 311
Chapter 10	Part IV: Just Beyond the Horizon : Back to the Future Introduction Moving from 2D to 3D	311 311 314
Chapter 10	Part IV: Just Beyond the Horizon : Back to the Future Introduction Moving from 2D to 3D 3D Learning Maturity Model	311 311 314 315
Chapter 10	Part IV: Just Beyond the Horizon : Back to the Future Introduction Moving from 2D to 3D 3D Learning Maturity Model Conclusion	311 311 314 315 324
Chapter 10	Part IV: Just Beyond the Horizon Back to the Future Introduction Moving from 2D to 3D 3D Learning Maturity Model Conclusion Campfire 3.0—The Next Generation Collaboration and Work Space, by Chuck Hamilton, Virtual Learning Strategy,	311 311 314 315 324
Chapter 10	Part IV: Just Beyond the Horizon Back to the Future Introduction Moving from 2D to 3D 3D Learning Maturity Model Conclusion Campfire 3.0—The Next Generation Collaboration and Work Space, by Chuck Hamilton, Virtual Learning Strategy, IBM Center for Advanced Learning	311 311 314 315 324 324
Chapter 10	Part IV: Just Beyond the Horizon Back to the Future Introduction Moving from 2D to 3D 3D Learning Maturity Model Conclusion Campfire 3.0—The Next Generation Collaboration and Work Space, by Chuck Hamilton, Virtual Learning Strategy, IBM Center for Advanced Learning Learning to Be 3D in 2020, by Randy J. Hinrichs	311 311 314 315 324 324 330
Chapter 10	Part IV: Just Beyond the Horizon : Back to the Future Introduction Moving from 2D to 3D 3D Learning Maturity Model Conclusion Campfire 3.0—The Next Generation Collaboration and Work Space, by Chuck Hamilton, Virtual Learning Strategy, IBM Center for Advanced Learning Learning to Be 3D in 2020, by Randy J. Hinrichs	 311 311 314 315 324 324 324 330 343
Chapter 10 Appendix: I	Part IV: Just Beyond the Horizon Back to the Future Introduction Moving from 2D to 3D 3D Learning Maturity Model Conclusion Campfire 3.0—The Next Generation Collaboration and Work Space, by Chuck Hamilton, Virtual Learning Strategy, IBM Center for Advanced Learning Learning to Be 3D in 2020, by Randy J. Hinrichs	 311 311 314 315 324 324 324 330 343 343

5

Contents

Defining Virtual Worlds	346
Conclusion	356
Glossary	357
Notes	363
Index	371
About the Authors	381
About the Contributors	385