

German Aid for Trade

Past experience, lessons learnt, and the way forward

Study commissioned by BMZ

Petra Voionmaa

Michael Brüntrup

Bonn 2009

Contents

Abbreviations

Summary

1	Introduction	1
2	The rationale behind Aid for Trade	14
3	Putting into practice Aid for Trade	25
3.1	International commitments	25
3.2	Challenges in fulfilling the commitments	29
3.3	Partner country perspective: Issues of ownership and alignment	36
4	Aid for Trade portfolios of selected donors and multilateral agencies	41
4.1	Trade-Related Assistance	45
4.2	Overall Aid for Trade	54
4.3	Donors' conceptual approaches	60
4.4	Partial conclusion	63
5	German Aid for Trade: The current state of affairs	64
5.1	Locating Aid for Trade within German development cooperation	64
5.2	Trade in BMZ policy papers	67
5.3	Quantifying German Aid for Trade	70
5.3.1	Thematic distribution and related German priority areas	72
5.3.2	Geographic distribution	75
5.3.3	Implementing Agencies	75
5.3.4	Multilateral TRA	78
5.3.5	What can these figures (not) tell us?	80

5.4	Fulfilling international benchmarks on aid effectiveness	82
5.4.1	Overview of case studies	83
5.4.2	Trade-poverty linkages	86
5.4.3	Managing for results	87
5.4.4	Alignment to partner strategies	88
5.4.5	Donor coordination and Programme-Based Approaches (PBAs)
5.4.6	Regional dimension	91
5.5	Partial conclusion	91
6	Shaping German Aid for Trade according to its comparative advantages	92
6.1	Revealed comparative advantages	92
6.2	Analysis of potential strengths, weaknesses, opportunities of and threats to AfT provided by Germany	98
6.3	Conclusions and recommendations for a future German Aid for Trade strategy	101
6.3.1	Positioning AfT vis-à-vis other topics within BMZ structures	101
6.3.2	Financial commitments	103
6.3.3	Geographic focus	106
6.3.4	Bilateral modes of delivery: Organisations and tools	107
6.3.5	Intervention areas	109
6.3.6	Multilateral instruments	111
6.3.7	Donor coordination and Programme-Based Approaches (PBAs)	112
7	Summary of recommendations and next steps	114
	Bibliography	119
	Annexes	123