

943 469 988

A WORLD BANK COUNTRY STUDY

Decentralization, Democracy, and Development

Recent Experience from Sierra Leone

Edited by Yongmei Zhou

THE WORLD BANK
Washington, D.C.

Contents

Foreword	viii
Editors and Contributors	x
Acknowledgments	xii
Abbreviations and Acronyms	xiii
Introduction.....	xv

Yongmei Zhou

Literature on Decentralization and Post-Conflict State-Building.....	xv
Brief Background on Sierra Leone.....	xvii
Unfolding Sierra Leone’s Decentralization in the Context of Post-Conflict State-Building	xviii
Has Decentralization Improved Coverage and Quality of Primary Health, Agriculture, and Primary Education Services?	xxvi
Has Decentralization Energized Civic Participation in Local Governance?	xxviii
Sustainability Challenges in Sierra Leone	xxix
Conclusions: What Have We Learned from Sierra Leone’s Experience?	xxx
Notes.....	xxxii

1. Establishing the Legislative, Political, and Administrative Framework for Local Government and Decentralization in Sierra Leone..... 1

Emmanuel Gaima

How the Decentralization Policy and Local Government Act 2004 Were Developed	1
Statutory Instrument and Timetable for Decentralization	3
Local Government Act 2004 and the Political Framework.....	4
Local Government Act 2004 and Other Laws (Complementarity and Contradictions)	6
Administrative Framework to Support Decentralization	7
Role of Institutional Reform and Capacity Building Project: World Bank Intervention—Arguments and Process/Actors	9
Decentralization Program in Design.....	11
Notes.....	13

2. Fiscal Decentralization: Building the Financial Capacity of Local Governments..... 15

Adams Sanpha Kargbo

Legislative Base	15
Revenue Mobilization	16
Institutional Framework	18
Grants System.....	18
Local Government Development Grants Program	20
Size of Fiscal Transfers	22
Paying the Grants to Councils.....	23
Financial Management Capacity of the Councils	24
Achievements	25
Notes.....	26
3. Administrative Decentralization: Building the Non-Financial Capacity of Local Governments	28
Alhassan Kanu
Local Governance before Passage of Local Government Act 2004.....	28
Emergence of the New Local Councils	30
Planning for Capacity Building Prior to the Passage of Local Government Act 2004.....	31
Planning for Capacity Building after Passage of Local Government Act 2004.....	31
Providing and Developing Human Capacity	35
Role of Coaches in Capacity Building	42
Achievements in Infrastructure Capacity Development	42
Development of Local Council Administrative and Governance Capacity.....	43
Critical Challenges to Capacity Building for Local Governance	53
Future Possible Changes to Capacity Development	56
Conclusion	58
Notes.....	59
4. Decentralization in Practice.....	60
Katherine Whiteside Casey
Overview: Motivating Hypotheses and the Size of the Pie.....	60
Devolution of Healthcare.....	62
Devolution of Agricultural Services.....	64
Devolution of Education	66
Reasons for Differential Progress across Sectors	68
Likely Areas of Decentralization Impacts.....	70
Notes.....	71

5. Impact of Decentralization on Public Services: Evidence to Date	73
Elizabeth Foster and Rachel Glennester
How Might Decentralization Be Predicted to Impact Services?.....	73
Data.....	74
Testable Hypotheses.....	75
Outcomes: Public Service Quality Has Improved across Most Sectors.....	76
Areas with Initially Low Levels of Service Have Experienced Catch-up in Some Sectors	80
Are Providers or Households Turning to Local Councils When They Have Problems with Services?	83
Conclusion	83
Notes.....	84
 6. Civic Engagement in Local Governance.....	 85
Yongmei Zhou and Ye Zhang
Political Motivation of Decentralization and Electoral Outcome of 2004 Local Council Elections.....	85
Fiscal Decentralization as a Policy Choice to Improve Effectiveness of Public Spending.....	87
Has Decentralization Brought Government to the Doorsteps of the Rural Masses?	87
Have People Felt the Presence of the Local Councils?.....	91
Civic Activism at the Grassroots.....	97
Are the People Disciplining Their Representatives via Elections?.....	99
Conclusions	104
Annex 6.1. Figures from Chapter 6.....	106
Notes.....	108
 7. Landscape of Local Authority in Sierra Leone: How “Traditional” and “Modern” Justice and Governance Systems Interact.....	 110
Ryann Elizabeth Manning
Research Methodology.....	111
Mapping Local Authority Structures in Sierra Leone.....	112
Observations on Sources of Authority in Sierra Leone.....	117
Local Councils’ Interactions with Other Authority Structures.....	121
Conclusions and Recommendations: Complex, Mixed System of Local Governance Is Here to Stay.....	127
Notes.....	129

8. Reflections and Conclusions on Positives and Problems Resulting from Devolution to Date.....	138
Emmanuel Gaima
Appendix: IRCBP Evaluations Unit: Overview of Surveys.....	144
References.....	147

Tables

Table 1. Deviations of Actual Spending from Budget Allocations, 2003–07 (%)	xxvi
Table 3.1. Compliance with Minimum Conditions and Scores on Performance Measures.....	46
Table 3.2. LGDG Performance Incentive Grant Distribution Scale.....	47
Table 3.3. LGDG Performance Incentive Grant by Local Council	48
Table 3.4. Status of Accounts and Audit, 2005 and 2006.....	51
Table 3.5. Local Council Revenue Estimate and Collection, 2007.....	52
Table 4.1. Statutory Timetable for Transfer of Health Sector Functions and the Date of First Fiscal Transfer.....	62
Table 4.2. Statutory Timetable for Transfer of Agriculture Sector Functions and the First Year of Fiscal Transfer	65
Table 4.3. Statutory Timetable for Transfer of Education Sector Functions and Date of First Fiscal Transfer.....	67
Table 5.1. Access and Quality of Public Services, 2005–07 (%).....	76
Table 5.2. Does Greater Sector Decentralization Correlate with Greater Public Service Improvement?.....	77
Table 5.3. Correlation between Improved Services and Changes in Distance to Power (%).....	81
Table 5.4. Supervision Visits to Clinics, 2005–08 (%).....	83
Table 6.1. Sierra Leone’s Many Isolated Communities	88
Table 6.2. Correlations between November 2006 Local Council Management Performance Measures and June 2007 Average Citizen Perception of Council and Councilor	93
Table 6.3. Public Perception of Central Government and Local Council: Changes from 2005–07 (%)	94
Table 6.4. Perception of Central Government and Local Councils among Those Who Have More Interactions with Local Councils (%)	94
Table 6.5. First Most Important Reason for Choosing to Vote by Local Council.....	103
Table 6.6. Reasons to Reelect or Replace Local Councilors: Views of Opinion Leaders (%)	104

Figures

Figure 1. Initial Phase of IRCBP: Generating a Virtuous Cycle of Local Government Improvement.....	xxii
--	------