

Global governance and building a harmonious world

A comparison of European and Chinese concepts for international affairs

Thomas Fues / LIU Youfa (eds.)

d.i.e

Deutsches Institut für
Entwicklungspolitik

German Development
Institute

Deutsches Institut für Entwicklungspolitik (DIE)

in cooperation with

China Institute of International Studies (CIIS)

Bonn 2011

Contents

Abbreviations

Executive Summary	1
--------------------------	----------

Introduction	3
---------------------	----------

Thomas Fues / LIU Youfa

Part I

The global context: how China and Europe can join forces for effective problem-solving	7
-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	----------

Three waves of global change: the dynamics of global governance in the first half of the 21st century

Dirk Messner	9
---------------------	----------

Policy thoughts on China-EU cooperation in promoting global governance

LIU Youfa	39
------------------	-----------

Opportunities and limitations of EU-China cooperation in global governance

Thomas Fues	53
--------------------	-----------

Long-term implications of “Building a Harmonious World” and “Global Governance” for policy-makers and the general public

CHEN Xulong / WANG Qiang	69
---------------------------------	-----------

Part II

Foreign policies of China and Europe in a regional context	85
-------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------

The relevance of “Building a Harmonious World” and “Global Governance”: a comparison of the foreign policies of China and the EU

DONG Manyuan / JIN Ling	87
--------------------------------	-----------

Policy approaches of the Chinese government towards “Building a Harmonious World” SHI Yongming	103
----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----

The European neighbourhood policy: everything but incentives Mark Furness	117
-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----

Building a harmonious neighbourhood (China) and regional governance (the EU): a tentative comparison of two concepts CHEN Xulong	135
--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----

Part III

Climate change and development cooperation: how China and Europe can cooperate in key areas of global governance	155
-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------

Climate change governance: a comparison of the EU and China Doris Fischer / CHEN Ying	157
-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----

China and the EU in the UN climate negotiations: differences in positions and ways to bridge them WANG Qiang	173
------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----

Why are we so critical of China’s engagement in Africa? Axel Berger / Deborah Brautigam / Philipp Baumgartner	189
-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----

Dialogues and mutual learning between China and the EU in development cooperation: opportunities and challenges JIN Ling	195
------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----

Authors	213
----------------	------------