

NGOs and Corporations

Conflict and Collaboration

MICHAEL YAZIJI

and

JONATHAN DOH

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Contents

List of figures	page	xi
List of tables		xii
Preface		xiii
Foreword		xvii
Acknowledgments		xix
Part I Understanding NGOS		1
1 Classifying NGOs: definitions, typologies and networks		3
2 The emergence of NGOs in the context of business–government–societal relationships		15
3 The emergence of NGOs in the context of ethical and institutional complexity		33
Case illustration: genetically modified organisms, social movements and NGOs		46
Case illustration: protecting the people – environmental NGOs and TXU Energy		50
Part II NGO advocacy campaigns		55
4 NGO campaigns against corporations and (de-)legitimacy		57
5 How do they do it? Understanding the power and influence of radical advocacy NGOs		74
6 NGO campaign types and company responses		93
Case illustration: PETA and KFC		112
Case illustration: Coca-Cola in India		115

Part III Corporate–NGO engagement	121
7 Corporate–NGO engagements: from conflict to collaboration	123
8 Globalization, multinationals and NGOs: the next wave	146
Case illustration: conflict diamonds	162
Case illustration: Unilever in Indonesia	166
Case illustration: microfinance and poverty reduction	169
Part IV The future of corporate–NGO relations	173
9 The future of corporate–NGO relations	175
Index	184