

Ideational Leadership in German Welfare State Reform

How Politicians and Policy Ideas
Transform Resilient Institutions

Sabina Stiller

AMSTERDAM UNIVERSITY PRESS

Table of Contents

Acknowledgements 7

1 Introduction 9

- 1.1 Sources of Welfare State Persistence 10
- 1.2 Major Welfare State Reforms Do Occur 14
- 1.3 Ideational Leadership and Structural Reforms 17
- 1.4 Structure of the Book 19

2 Ideational Leadership: Key to Overcoming Welfare State Resistance to Change 21

- 2.1 Situating IL Among Reform Explanations 21
- 2.2 Contributions from the Leadership Literature 23
- 2.3 Contributions from the Ideational Literature 27
- 2.4 IL as a Joint Concept 33
- 2.5 Aspects, Mechanisms and Effects of IL 34
- 2.6 IL and Theorizing on Gradual Institutional Change 39
- 2.7 Conclusion 42

3 A Bird's-Eye View of the German Welfare State 45

- 3.1 Germany as Prototype of the Bismarckian Welfare State 46
- 3.2 Sources of Resilience: Political Institutions and Policy Legacies 52
- 3.3 How Have German Governments Responded to Pressures? 60
- 3.4 General Patterns of Change in Major Programmes 71
- 3.5 Conclusion 72

4 Transformation of Health Care Policy?

The Legacy of Minister Seehofer 75

- 4.1 A Sketch of Statutory Health Insurance in the Early 1990s 76
- 4.2 The 1992 Structural Health Care Reform Act 78
- 4.3 Seehofer's Role: A Minister 'Taking on the Sharks' 85
- 4.4 The 1997 Health Care Reorganization Acts 93

4.5	The Role of Minister Seehofer: Fighting Against the Tide	100
4.6	Conclusion	107
5	Transforming Public Pensions: the Riester Pension Reform	111
5.1	The Reform Process: Chronology, Actors and Policy Positions	113
5.2	Tracing Ideational Leadership	121
5.3	Assessing the Role of Ideational Leadership	134
5.4	Conclusion	143
6	Transforming Unemployment Policy: The Hartz IV Reform	145
6.1	The Reform Process: Chronology, Actors and Policy Positions	148
6.2	Tracing Ideational Leadership	157
6.3	Assessing the Role of IL	172
6.4	Conclusion	177
7	Conclusion	181
7.1	Family Policy: From Familialism Towards Reconciling Work and Family Life	183
7.2	Transforming Bismarckian Principles	188
7.3	Towards a New Hybrid Welfare State Edifice	190
	List of Abbreviations	201
	List of Interviewees	203
	Notes	205
	Bibliography	235
	Index	249