

NOT SO PLAIN AS BLACK AND WHITE

AFRO-GERMAN CULTURE AND HISTORY, 1890–2000

*Edited by Patricia Mazón and Reinhild Steingröver
With a Foreword by Russell Berman*

UNIVERSITY OF ROCHESTER PRESS

CONTENTS

Foreword— Russell A. Berman	vii
Introduction— Patricia Mazón and Reinhild Steingröver	1

Part I: Afro-Germans in Historical Perspective

1	Dangerous Liaisons: Race, Nation, and German Identity Fatima El-Tayeb	27
2	The First Besatzungskinder : Afro-German Children, Colonial Childrearing Practices, and Racial Policy in German Southwest Africa, 1890–1914 Krista Molly O'Donnell	61
3	Converging Specters of an Other Within: Race and Gender in Pre-1945 Afro-German History Tina M. Campt	82

Part II: Cultural Representations and Self-Representations of Afro-Germans

4	Louis Brody and the Black Presence in German Film Before 1945 Tobias Nagl	109
5	Narrating “Race” in 1950s’ West Germany: The Phenomenon of the Toxi Films Heide Fehrenbach	136

6	Will Everything Be Fine? Anti-Racist Practice in Recent German Cinema Randall Halle	161
7	Writing Diasporic Identity: Afro-German Literature since 1985 Leroy Hopkins	183
8	The Souls of Black Volk : Contradiction? Oxymoron? Anne Adams	209
	Selected Bibliography	233
	Notes on Contributors	241
	Name Index	245